Man Slays 2; Gives Self Up In New York

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — A man who shot two persons and then barricaded himself in a basement laundry room with his 22-month-old daughter as hostage was talked into surrendering early today by his family physician.

The child, Sabrina Crider, was unhurt as Winston Mitchell, 27-year-old former convict, walked trembling from the windowless room where he had held police at bay for eight hours with his threat to kill the girl.

The breakthrough came when Dr. Jesse Pone, a 43-year-old internist, heard about the incident on his car radio while driving home from a Massachusetts vacation and raced here to help.

"I've had pretty good rapport with him in the past and thought I could help," said Pone, who arrived about 2 a.m. He said he had treated Mitchell several times over the past five years.

Police said the incident began when Mitchell argued with Mary Ellen Crider, 22, the girl's mother who shared his apartment in the green-shingled ranch home. Both Miss Crider and her brother, James Crider, were shot.

Mitchell then retreated to the 10-foot square basement room where Pone went to talk with him when he arrived.

About 35 policemen, some wearing bulletproof vests, and a crowd of 200 spectators kept watch at the floodlit scene as a succession of persons before Pone tried unsuccessfully to talk Mitchell from his sanctuary.

U.S. Warns Reds Not To Push Viet Cities Campaign

PARIS (AP) — The United States warned North Vietnam today not to push too hard against South Vietnam's cities and outposts.

"Such action can only set back the purpose of our conversations," Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy at the 20th session of the Paris peace talks.

The American diplomat also disputed Hanoi's claim that all Vietnamese have the right to defend any part of Vietnam, South as well as North.

"North Vietnamese forces have no such right," Harriman declared. "Your government cannot grant itself that right. There is no way that you can justify the presence of your forces in the South."

Harriman insisted that the United States is fighting in Vietnam at the request of the Saigon government to help the South defend itself against Hanoi's aggression.

"We have said time and again that we are prepared to withdraw our forces as you withdraw yours, as infiltration ends and the level of violence subsides," he said. "We will live up to that pledge and we ask whether you are prepared also to withdraw your forces and to let the people of South Vietnam determine their own future?"

Harriman told newsmen as he went into the meeting that North Vietnamese are doing almost all the fighting in South Vietnam, and the Viet Cong is playing a minor role. He demanded that Hanoi quit fighting at once and also called once again on the North Vietnamese to say precisely what they would do if American bombing of the North were stopped.

Tower, chairman of the Nixon-Agnew key issues committee, told newsmen that at times he spoke for the Republican presidential nominee, at other times for the key issues committee, and still other times just for himself.

He said the three major issues of the presidential campaign are the Vietnam war, lawlessness and inflation.

Circleville Council Has Light Session; Discusses $5 Auto Tax

Circleville City Council, with two of its members absent from Tuesday's meeting, did not pass any legislation.

All ordinances presented last night were held to a first reading by councilmen because there were not enough members present to proceed with a suspension of the rules and pass legislation.

Absent were John Jenkins, second ward councilman, and Dr. David Goldschmidt, first ward councilman.

Only three ordinances were presented. Two were to appropriate monies from the general fund. They were $200 for municipal court and $150 for the maintenance of traffic lights and signals.

THE third legislation which was held for the next session of council was an ordinance to extend water service to two homes beyond the corporation limits. The homes are owned by Tetronics Inc. The firm, through attorney, Roy Huffer, requested the city water.

The property being developed by the firm is in the process of being annexed to the city. Two homes have been completed on the Walnut Creek Pike. The developers are asking that city water be supplied so they won't have the expense of drilling wells for temporary water supplies.

Included in Mayor Richard Gerhardt's recommendations to council last night, was one urging the city solons to initiate action to enact the $5 permissive motor vehicle registration fee.

The Mayor's prepared recommendation was read to council by clerk Robert Shadley. It stated in part: "It is being suggested that the motor vehicle registration fee be used as a method of helping to solve this need. It has several inherent advantages.

"First it allows revenue to be collected from those who benefit. Secondly, it would free funds from the general fund which are being used to help finance the street improvement program ($30,000 this year). The funds from the general fund could then be used for the city's other needs.

"A LETTER from Mr. John Reimers of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce... points out that the city of Circleville with its present boundary could anticipate revenue in 1969 of around $35,000. It would not be impossible to use this source of revenue to finance a street improvement revenue bond whereby a massive street

Bank Robbers Get $70,000; Make Getaway in Speedboat

NEW YORK (AP) — Using a speedboat called Cheetah, three gunmen eluded a small armada of police boats and aircraft on Long Island Sound Tuesday after taking possibly as much as $70,000 from a City Island bank, police said.

The unusual getaway vehicle was found abandoned almost five hours later but police did capture a man they said had helped plan the spectacular robbery.

Police said that two armed men invaded the bank, about 1 p.m., and one forced bank personnel and customers to lie on the floor while the other cleaned from $40,000 to $70,000 from the tellers' drawers.

A spokesman for the Manufacturers' Hanover Trust Co. branch said the men disarmed a guard but a teller, seeing the rifle carried by one robber, activated the alarm system and movie cameras.

Bank officials put the amount taken at $30,000 pending an audit.

The two men, one wearing a ski mask and the other carrying a bolt action shotgun, fled from the bank to the waiting outboard motorboat in yellow panel truck which was reported stolen last month.

The gunmen transferred to the boat at a nearby mooring. Witnesses reported they saw the boat's name as it churned away from the pier. They incorrectly reported the boat was blue and white, police said.

A police helicopter, nine police launches, a Coast Guard launch and a Coast Guard cutter spent several hours topping and searching blue and white pleasure boats in the area before the boat's description was corrected. It was red and white.

The boat was finally found moored about 200 yards offshore in Weir Creek, a branch of Eastchester Bay, near the Throgs Neck Bridge.

Police said they had discovered the name of the boat's owner and were searching for him. It had been purchased last month in Putnam Valley, N.Y.

The suspect arrested Tuesday night was described as an unemployed computer operator named Dennis Geaney, 25, of the Bronx.

Police, who gave no details of the arrest, said Geaney was not present during the holdup. He is charged with conspiracy in connection with the robbery.

HHH Goes to Washington For Cabinet, NSL Meets

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey has cut short what was to have been a week-long rest and campaign planning stay to attend a meeting of the National Security Council in Washington.

The vice president leaves his lakefront home today for Minneapolis, some 40 miles away, and will fly in his chartered jet to the capital for the late afternoon meeting.

Humphrey also plans to attend a Cabinet meeting in Washington Thursday before returning here later that day. More strategy talks are on tap Friday and Saturday.

Press Secretary Norman Sherman described Humphrey's decision to attend the security council meeting as "a routine decision."

But it was felt here that the vice president wanted both to emphasize his role as one close to the policy level and to get any late information on the Eastern European and Vietnam situations.

Humphrey spent most of Tuesday in sessions here with his campaign manager, Lawrence F. O'Brien, who is doubling as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Both were accompanied by advisers, Humphrey by William Connell, his executive assistant, Ted Van Dyk, his top traveling strategist, and Dr. Edgar Bernman, physician and confidante, and O'Brien by Joseph Napolitan, a long time aide who heads a Washington-based campaign service, and Ira Kapenstein, his personal aide.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who has been doing some campaign planning for the vice president, also was on hand, but Sherman said he was there to join the Humphreys at a dinner with friends to celebrate their 32nd wedding anniversary.

Czech Crisis Brings Review Of Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is willing to pledge along with its NATO allies to maintain current troop levels in Europe as one way to meet the new Soviet threat, administration sources say.

The sources say the issuing of such a pledge probably would be done in a joint statement.

They said this was among alternatives before the National Security Council at a meeting today called to chart policy toward the Soviet presence in Czechoslovakia, which points like a dagger at the heart of free Europe.

President Johnson called the late afternoon session with his top military, defense and diplomatic aides earlier in the week while winding up a long stay at his ranch in Texas. He returned to Washington today.

The session parallels a similar review now going on in the inner chambers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at Brussels.

Decisions made here will be transmitted to the U.S. contingent at NATO with the hope it will spur unity in any military or diplomatic retrenchment to meet the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and what some consider threatening gestures toward Romania.

Czechoslovakia now harbors an estimated 200,000 elite Red invasion troops and appears to be causing the most concern.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was described Tuesday as accepting the word of Russian Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that his country does not plan to invade Romania.

Fresh reports of a troop buildup along that nation's borders, however, prompted President Johnson last week to beam straight at Moscow a speech that warned it "not to unleash the dogs of war." And the subject was on the table before the NSC.

Although officials are reluctant to predict what the council will decide, they acknowledged that the United States would be agreeable to issuing a joint statement with its allies pledging no further reductions of forces in Europe.

Regarding American forces in Europe it is now clear that congressional requests for troop reductions can be shelved, the officials said.

NATO also must take a new hard look at its accepted policy of détente with the Communist world, officials acknowledged.

In this connection they noted as significant that Soviet ambassadors in a number of West European capitals are making unannounced efforts to explain that the invasion of Czechoslovakia was a domestic affair of the Communist bloc which should not hinder further efforts for détente and that, in Moscow's view, the West overreacted.

Terrorists Hit Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV (AP) — Saboteurs set off three explosive charges in a Tel Aviv bus station today, killing one person and wounding 49.

The explosives, planted in litter bins, sent jagged chunks of metal flying like shrapnel through the crowds of waiting passengers. Witnesses said the dead man was pierced in the head by one of the slivers. Two buses were damaged. The explosions touched off wild crowd scenes.

Police rounded up four Arab suspects who ran a gauntlet of 200 cursing Israelis. At least one Arab was bloodied by kicks and punches.

A similar chain of blasts occurred in Jerusalem two weeks ago.

Meanwhile, the Israeli navy is investigating two Egyptian fishing boats it captured in Israeli territorial waters six days ago, an army spokesman said.

Russians Purge More Anti-Soviet Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — The architect of Czechoslovakia's economic reform program has resigned and the foreign minister appears to be on the way out as a result of policies that angered the Kremlin.

Deputy Premier Ota Sik, whose policies envisioned trade and aid from the West and efforts to break free from dependence on the Soviet Union, resigned Tuesday night, Prague Radio reported. It said President Ludvik Svoboda accepted the resignation.

The Soviet government made plain it also expects the ouster of Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek. The government newspaper Izvestia called him an "accomplice of the dark forces of reaction and counterrevolution" and accused him of seeking foreign policy changes which Moscow opposes, including closer ties with the West.

Hajek also angered the Soviets by seeking the support of Communist Yugoslavia and Romania—both rebels against Kremlin domination—in what looked like a revival of the pre-World War II Little Entente.

Izvestia also attacked Sik along with Planning Minister Frantisek Vlasak and State Control Minister Stefan Gasparik.

Vlasak and Gasparik returned to Prague from Yugoslavia Tuesday, but Sik remained in Belgrade and Hajek is in Switzerland. Sik and Hajek have been abroad since before Soviet, Bulgarian, Hungarian, Polish and East German troops invaded Czechoslovakia on Aug. 20.

Hajek came to New York for the U.N. Security Council debate on the invasion, but on orders from Prague asked the council to drop the matter after Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders reached an agreement in four days of negotiations in Moscow.

That agreement provided for gradual withdrawal of occupation troops as the situation "normalized," but Czechoslovak Communist party officials seem increasingly convinced that the Russians will stay for years, perhaps decades.

The invasion frayed the ideological ties that bound the Czechoslovak army to its Warsaw Pact allies and one Communist source said: "I just cannot see how they could risk leaving our country during the next 10 years."

The Czechoslovak army stood firmly behind liberal Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and supplied emergency transmitters to the underground radio stations that operated extensively during the first 10 days of the occupation.

New occupation troop movements were reported Tuesday—away from public buildings in Prague, toward the West German border and back into Hungary from Czechoslovakia.

Soviet forces withdrew from the headquarters of the national news agency CTK, the radio station at Bratislava, President Svoboda's headquarters in Hradcany Castle and most ministries. But Russian soldiers still guarded the ministries of interior, which controls the police, and defense.

Soviet armored cars also abandoned their guard of the U.S. Embassy but one remained in front of the office of an American airline.

Izvestia said occupation troops were ordered into the cities of Cheb and Karlovy Vary near the West German border because "in recent days reactionary forces have succeeded in stirring up disorder" there. It did not describe the disorders.

Radio Bratislava reported that Hungarian troops stationed in southern Slovakia were going home in increasing numbers. Some reports said there had been incidents between the Slovaks and Hungarian soldiers.

Czech Denies He's Defector

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A Czechoslovakian scientist denies that he defected to the United States.

Dr. Jan Klein, an authority on transplantation genetics, made the denial Tuesday in a statement issued through Stanford University Medical School's news bureau.

He said he was visiting Stanford as a research associate in the genetics department and that arrangements for his trip had been made seven months ago.

U.S. and Japanese officials said he "obviously" was a defector but a U.S. Embassy spokesman in Tokyo declined to classify him officially as a defector.

U.S. Warns Reds Not To Push Viet Cities Campaign

PARIS (AP) — The United States warned North Vietnam today not to push too hard against South Vietnam's cities and outposts.

"Such action can only set back the purpose of our conversations," Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy at the 20th session of the Paris peace talks.

The American diplomat also disputed Hanoi's claim that all Vietnamese have the right to defend any part of Vietnam, South as well as North.

Supporters of the former Alabama governor seek to overturn a federal court ruling which denied ballot position to the American Independent Party candidate, but which ordered the state to provide ballot space for write-ins.

The Supreme Court appeal will be directed to Associate Justice Potter Stewart and will request an order directing state officials to put Wallace's name on the ballot until the appeal can be decided in the full court.

Young said the motion will ask that Wallace's name be posted in a manner to allow covering if the appeal fails.

The Columbus attorney said he would ask the court to advance the case for hearing as soon as possible. The court is in summer recess and will convene in early October.

Decisions made here will be transmitted to the U.S. contingent at NATO with the hope it will spur unity in any military or diplomatic retrenchment to meet the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and what some consider threatening gestures toward Romania.

Czechoslovakia now harbors an estimated 200,000 elite Red invasion troops and appears to be causing the most concern.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was described Tuesday as accepting the word of Russian Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that his country does not plan to invade Romania.

Fresh reports of a troop buildup along that nation's borders, however, prompted President Johnson last week to beam straight at Moscow a speech that warned it "not to unleash the dogs of war." And the subject was on the table before the NSC.

Although officials are reluctant to predict what the council will decide, they acknowledged that the United States would be agreeable to issuing a joint statement with its allies pledging no further reductions of forces in Europe.

Regarding American forces in Europe it is now clear that congressional requests for troop reductions can be shelved, the officials said.

NATO also must take a new hard look at its accepted policy of détente with the Communist world, officials acknowledged.

In this connection they noted as significant that Soviet ambassadors in a number of West European capitals are making unannounced efforts to explain the invasion of Czechoslovakia was a domestic affair of the Communist bloc which should not hinder further efforts for détente and that, in Moscow's view, the West overreacted.

Terrorists Hit Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV (AP) — Saboteurs set off three explosive charges in a Tel Aviv bus station today, killing one person and wounding 49.

The explosives, planted in litter bins, sent jagged chunks of metal flying like shrapnel through the crowds of waiting passengers. Witnesses said the dead man was pierced in the head by one of the slivers. Two buses were damaged. The explosions touched off wild crowd scenes.

Police rounded up four Arab suspects who ran a gauntlet of 200 cursing Israelis. At least one Arab was bloodied by kicks and punches.

A similar chain of blasts occurred in Jerusalem two weeks ago. Meanwhile, the Israeli navy is investigating two Egyptian fishing boats it captured in Israeli territorial waters six days ago, an army spokesman said.

Russians Purge More Anti-Soviet Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — The architect of Czechoslovakia's economic reform program has resigned and the foreign minister appears to be on the way out as a result of policies that angered the Kremlin.

Deputy Premier Ota Sik, whose policies envisioned trade and aid from the West and efforts to break free from dependence on the Soviet Union, resigned Tuesday night, Prague Radio reported. It said President Ludvik Svoboda accepted the resignation.

The Soviet government made plain it also expects the ouster of Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek. The government newspaper Izvestia called him an "accomplice of the dark forces of reaction and counterrevolution" and accused him of seeking foreign policy changes which Moscow opposes, including closer ties with the West.

Hajek also angered the Soviets by seeking the support of Communist Yugoslavia and Romania—both rebels against Kremlin domination—in what looked like a revival of the pre-World War II Little Entente.

Izvestia also attacked Sik along with Planning Minister Frantisek Vlasak and State Control Minister Stefan Gasparik.

Vlasak and Gasparik returned to Prague from Yugoslavia Tuesday, but Sik remained in Belgrade and Hajek is in Switzerland. Sik and Hajek have been abroad since before Soviet, Bulgarian, Hungarian, Polish and East German troops invaded Czechoslovakia on Aug. 20.

Hajek came to New York for the U.N. Security Council debate on the invasion, but on orders from Prague asked the council to drop the matter after Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders reached an agreement in four days of negotiations in Moscow.

That agreement provided for gradual withdrawal of occupation troops as the situation "normalized," but Czechoslovak Communist party officials seem increasingly convinced that the Russians will stay for years, perhaps decades.

The invasion frayed the ideological ties that bound the Czechoslovak army to its Warsaw Pact allies and one Communist source said: "I just cannot see how they could risk leaving our country during the next 10 years."

The Czechoslovak army stood firmly behind liberal Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and supplied emergency transmitters to the underground radio stations that operated extensively during the first 10 days of the occupation.

New occupation troop movements were reported Tuesday—away from public buildings in Prague, toward the West German border and back into Hungary from Czechoslovakia.

Soviet forces withdrew from the headquarters of the national news agency CTK, the radio station at Bratislava, President Svoboda's headquarters in Hradcany Castle and most ministries. But Russian soldiers still guarded the ministries of interior, which controls the police, and defense.

Soviet armored cars also abandoned their guard of the U.S. Embassy but one remained in front of the office of an American airline.

Izvestia said occupation troops were ordered into the cities of Cheb and Karlovy Vary near the West German border because "in recent days reactionary forces have succeeded in stirring up disorder" there. It did not describe the disorders.

Radio Bratislava reported that Hungarian troops stationed in southern Slovakia were going home in increasing numbers. Some reports said there had been incidents between the Slovaks and Hungarian soldiers.

improvement program could be mounted in the $150,000 to $200,000 range. This would allow the city to get ahead in one giant leap."

Council informed the mayor the finance committee had already asked that legislation be prepared to enact the $5 tax. Councilman Harold Clifton asked the mayor to assist council in preparing an ordinance for presentation at the next meeting of the city's governing body.

Other recommendations were made by the mayor. He asked council to apply for federal grants to match local funds for the demolition of unsound structures and corrections of improper sanitary sewer connections.

He recommended that an official seal for the city be adopted and that its use be made in compliance with state and local statutes.

He recommended that fire lanes and unloading areas be established in the city and that a minimum of ten fire hydrants be purchased to replace the operable, but defective ones, especially in the high risk areas.

THE mayor recommended that one side of the city jail be refurbished to meet minimum sanitary health standards.

He recommended that the Mayor be authorized to declare a state of emergency, with concurrent emergency powers if and when such disasters or disturbances arise to warrant such a declaration.

He recommended that the city provide brackets for street name signs (to be furnished by local civic clubs) so that street signs may be visible from two ways.

He recommended that modern safety sign regulations be enacted in cooperation with both the public and private sectors.

He recommended the service department be authorized to advertise for, accept and sign, contracts for the purchase and/or lease of a vacuum machine, general maintenance pick up truck and a snow plow.

Council Briefs
Second Ward Councilman Harold Clifton asked the mayor to broaden a recommendation for the renovation of the city jail to include the entire city building.

Erv Leist, public utilities director, told council he had applied for the city's permit to discharge partially treated waste expenses into the Scioto River. The present permit expires Sept. 15. Leist also said that bids would be accepted noon, Sept. 10, for a new accounting machine. The present accounting machine has ceased to function and the water department is posting accounts by hand.

Leist also reported that a complaint of an odor in the south end of Circleville had been traced to a site where septic tank cleaners were dumping wastes. The situation was remedied through cooperation of Container Corporation, owner of the land.

A survey of homes in the north end showed that 26 had downspouts connected to sewer lines. Leist said that many of these residents did not realize they were improperly connected. Some have taken steps on their own to correct the situation.

AUDREY Kearns sent a letter to council asking for exclusive rights for a taxi firm in the city. She said in her letter that when she bought the firm from John Robinson he agreed not to start another taxi firm in the city. She objected to the mini-bus line which council has okayed by city ordinance. Robinson has been given the franchise for the bus line.

William Imier, a Hillcrest Drive resident, asked council to improve surface drainage in the area. He noted that in storms, all the water in the area drained through his lot. He offered the city a permanent easement across his property to correct the situation.

Father, Daughter Fined in Court

A Circleville man and his daughter appeared in Circleville Municipal Court Tuesday as a result of charges filed during an incident Saturday.

According to reports during the hearing in court, Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark was called to a trailer in the A and W Trailer Court when neighbors reported an argument was in progress.

Deputy Clark found James R. Billups in an argument with his daughter, Anna Marie Billups, 18. He advised Billups to be quiet and departed.

Before Deputy Clark got to his cruiser, the argument broke out again. He arrested Billups for disturbing the peace and while escorting him to the cruiser, Deputy Clark was struck in the back of the head by Miss Billups, who was arrested for assault.

Miss Billups was fined $50 and costs by Judge Sterling Lamb, but half the fine was suspended. Billups was fined $15 and costs. Both had pleaded guilty.

Chamber Board Holds Meet At Hospital

Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met Tuesday noon for a luncheon meeting at Berger Hospital.

Robert Wilson, president, appointed a nominating committee consisting of Frank Gans, Lloyd Wardell and Bert Bennett. The committee, headed by Wilson, will prepare a slate of candidates to be elected at the November meeting.

Chaney Vance reported that the Hi Neighbor Day was a "huge success." He noted that about 500 tickets were sold with 257 attending the pork barbecue that climaxed the day-long event. Special thanks was given Nelson Stevens, a guest at the meeting, for his assistance with the project.

In other business, Wayne Smith, public relations chairman, reported that plans were progressing on the dedication ceremonies Sept. 21, for the Deer Creek Reservoir.

Dr. William Meyers, chairman of health and safety, told directors that a Columbus drug firm has a vomit inducing syrup available that should be "in every home."

Dr. Meyers pointed out that 20,000 lives are lost nationally every year due to accidental consumption of poisons etc. He said his committee would make an effort to get the solution, 'Ipecac Syrup,' into every home in Circleville. By having the syrup on hand, instead of the 15-20 minutes it would take to get an available doctor or a trip to the emergency room, could mean the difference between life and death.

Samples were given the chamber directors and the program to make the syrup available here was endorsed by the board.

Plane Crash Fatal to 89

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — An official of the Bulgarian airline Bulair said today an Ilyushin 18 airliner of the company crashed at Burgos, Bulgaria Tuesday night and 82 passengers and seven crew members were killed.

The official, reached by telephone from Vienna, said he did not know the nationalities of the crash victims. He added an official government announcement would be made later.

The official said the cause of the crash was not yet known. Unconfirmed reports reaching Vienna said most of the tourists were East Germans who were on a vacation on the Bulgarian Black Sea coast. It apparently was a charter flight.

Begin Relief Operations After Mideast Earthquakes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Shah and Empress of Iran flew to northeast Iran today to inspect the devastation of the weekend earthquakes that killed 11,000 of their people.

Some 1,400 miles to the west of Iran's stricken area, Turkish officials said 15 persons were killed Tuesday and some 200 were injured in an earthquake that jolted towns on the Black Sea east of Istanbul.

Iran's rulers were to visit the hardest hit villages including Kherzi, Mim and Kakhk. In Kakhk alone, some 6,000 persons died.

Relief officials said there had been no reports of epidemics in the shattered towns but that large quantities of disinfectant, vaccine and sterilized water were being taken to the stricken area.

Premier Amir Abass Hoveida said rescuers had abandoned attempts to recover more bodies because of the danger of epidemics. He ordered ruins leveled by bulldozers, burying the unrecovered dead in the rubble.

He said homes in the area would eventually be rebuilt in the area using steel beams and heavy bricks instead of the traditional mud and wood.

Enrollment Up in County School System

Enrollment in Pickaway County Schools for the first day of classes Tuesday was 5,250 it was announced today by George D. McDowell, county superintendent.

McDowell said that he anticipates further enrollments within the next few days.

Last year's first day enrollment total in county schools was 4,722.

With 2,444 students, Teays Valley is the largest school district. The district has 681 students at Ashville Elementary, 493 at Scioto Elementary and 690 in the high school.

THE entire district had 1,973 students on the first day last year for an increase of nearly 500.

Westfall district has a total of 1,593 students, compared to 1,584 last year, a slight decrease. Darby has 290 students, Jackson 284, Monroe 300, Williamsport 280 and the high school 439.

Logan Elm's enrollment is up 48 for the first day. The district has a total of 1,213 for the first day compared to 1,165 last year. Washington Twp. has 233 students, Salt Creek, 298, Pickaway 320, Logan Elm High School, 362.

County Court Handles 38 Cases in Aug.

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court disposed of 38 cases from a 288-case backlog during the month of August, according to Sara Dresbach, clerk of courts.

The court completed 15 domestic cases, four criminal cases and 19 civil cases during the month. During the same time period, 20 domestic relations, 15 other civil and 23 criminal cases were filed with the court.

The court, presided over by Judge William Ammer, had 230 cases pending at the beginning of the month. Of these, 103 were domestic relations, 110 other civil and 17 criminal cases.

Of the 38 cases disposed of, 14 were tried by the court, one by jury, four were default judgments and 19 were settled or dismissed.

At present seven cases tried by the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court are being considered for appeal by the District Court of Appeals.

2 More Parties Seeking Space On Ohio Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two more political parties have reacted to a federal court decision permitting secondary parties to run write-in candidates in Ohio's Nov. 5 general election.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Tuesday that the Socialist Workers Party of Ohio and the Committee for the Formation of the New Party have asked for instructions on how to file presidential electors.

A federal court decision last week opened the way for parties other than the Democratic and Republican organizations to run candidates. The ruling ordered the state to provide write-in space for other candidates.

County Auditor Releases Funds Of $1,418,101

Funds totaling $1,418,101.83 were issued to Pickaway County townships, schools, cities and corporations by the county auditor's office last week, according to Marvyn Rhoades, county auditor.

The funds, part of the August settlement, were derived from taxes on real estate, public utilities, inheritances, trailers, cigarettes and special assessments.

Schools in the county received the largest share of the money with $1,217,320.36.

Circleville City Schools received the largest share of the money with $367,854.73. Funds for other schools are as follows: Teays Valley $430,341.27; Westfall, $238,550.72; Logan Elm, $158,248.61; Miami Trace, $15,164.75; Deerfield, $3,756.40 and Harrisburg, $3,313.88.

Townships received $188,140.68. Harrison Twp. received the largest portion of the fund with $22,624.09. Circleville Twp. was second in the amount of funds received with $14,696.79.

Owner townships and money received was as follows: Darby, $7,214.79; Deer Creek, $3,455.77; Jackson, $7,848.06; Madison, $3,673.97; Monroe, $7,585.95; Muhlenberg, $3,176.82; Perry, $7,558.10; Pickaway, $6,042.81; Salt Creek, $5,000.74; Scioto, $7,713.20; Walnut, $10,783.74.

Cities and corporations received funds totaling $82,730.68. Circleville was given $67,468.15; Harrisburg, $5.53; Williamsport, $1,765.86; Ashville, $8,642.71; South Bloomfield, $706.19; Darbyville, $167.55; New Holland, $2,227.25; Tartton, $235.92; Commercial Point, $852.96; and Orient, $657.56.

Editors of Machine Design magazine of Cleveland, Ohio, official judges, must now compute who won the race.

The race began at noon Aug. 26. Both entries traveled the same 3,300-mile route, only in opposite directions.

The MIT vehicle finished in 202.5 hours, including a total of 32.5 hours of penalties for towing.

The MIT car was towed several times and incurred 10 hours of penalty time. It burned out its motor 130 miles short of the finish line and had to be pulled the last lap.

Race rules include provisions for a penalty of five minutes for each mile towed.

The Caltech "Voltswagen" did not require towing.

Caltech's elapsed time, including penalties for towing, was 214 hours. This would indicate MIT the winner by 12 hours, but penalties are also computed for other reasons, including installation of new equipment along the way.

Stock Market Holds Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective strength today helped give the stock market its second straight rise since Labor Day. Trading was moderate early in the afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by some 300 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.42 at 903.78.

The average was biting into the upside resistance above the 900 level, which it has crossed and recrossed many times this year.

A reported rise in construction spending in July after two straight monthly declines, a series of price increases in the chemical industry, and a gain in new factory orders were encouraging background factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 334.9 with industrials up 1.9, rails unchanged, and utilities up .7.

American Telephone gave the list respectable investment leadership as it went far ahead on volume and climbed nearly a point, following a rise of 1 1/4 Tuesday. Its strength was attributed to brokerage-house recommendations which have drawn institutional buying to the issue which has been depressed for a long time.

Village Revenues 107.7 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Revenues of Ohio's 733 village governments during 1967 totaled more than $107.7 million with expenditures of more than $104.9 million, State Auditor Roger Cloud reported today.

He said the combined income was up more than $2.4 million over the previous year, while expenditures climbed more than $2.1 million.

He compiled the figures from the annual financial reports filed with his office by village clerks.

S. Bloomfield Council Seeks New Police

Mayor Lester George opened the regular session of South Bloomfield council with Mrs. La Donna Haslep, Arthur Deal, Sr., Dale Pettibone, Kenneth McDaniel and Russell Toole present.

Council agreed to run an ad in a Columbus newspaper and the Circleville Herald for a permanent and — or part-time policeman. Bills were presented by the clerk and approved for payment.

Council approved new Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc. new contract for three years.

Council agreed to have Geo. Van Camp shoot tar and on the north sections of N. A. Drive, Lee Road, Cook Road and some alleys. The playground will be tarred again. A thank you note was received from the Catherine Roof family for flowers, Harold Hartley, Mayor of Ashville was present and asked if the Village would be interested in buying water from Ashville, as it was expending the water plant and lines and adding a new water tower.

Air Force investigators said the cause of at least one crash, and perhaps others, was a faulty actuator rod in the tail assembly. The malfunction since has been corrected.

The mishaps added fuel to the lingering controversy over awarding of the multibillion dollar contract to General Dynamics-Fort Worth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle has given 52 Washington area Catholic priests until Sept. 14 to accept Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control or face church penalties.

Cardinal O'Boyle Tuesday called the priests' signed statement that married Catholics under some circumstances may be guided by their own consciences on using artificial contraception "an attack on authority."

He said he will insist on an individual retraction by each of the priests, but did not specify what he would do if they refuse.

A spokesman for the priests has said they will refuse to retract their dissent. One, the Rev. T. Joseph O'Donoghue, already has been suspended for reading statements of dissent on the birth control encyclical during a sermon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that the Soviet Union launched its first missile carrying multiple warheads a week after a similar U.S. test has been neither confirmed nor denied by the Pentagon.

Newsweek magazine said this week the Soviets tested a multiple independently-targeted reentry missile (MIRV)—carrying four warheads—in August.

The Pentagon declined comment, as it often does on sensitive matters to prevent tipping off a potential enemy on the effectiveness of U.S. intelligence.

He recommended that fire lanes and unloading areas be established in the city and that a minimum of ten fire hydrants be purchased to replace the operable, but defective ones, especially in the high risk areas.

THE mayor recommended that one side of the city jail be refurbished to meet minimum sanitary health standards.

He recommended that the Mayor be authorized to declare a state of emergency, with concurrent emergency powers if and when such disasters or disturbances arise to warrant such a declaration.

He recommended that modern safety sign regulations be enacted in cooperation with both the public and private sectors.

He recommended the service department be authorized to advertise for, accept and sign.

Clerk's Office Issues 1294 Vehicle Titles

A total of 1,294 titles were issued for motor vehicles in Pickaway County, during August, according to a report compiled by Sara Dresbach, clerk of courts.

Of the 1,294 titled issued, 217 were for new vehicles. Title fees totaled $3,036.50.

Fords topped the list of new cars in the county for the month, according to the report. Chevrolet were second among countians with a total of 47 granted titles.

Number of titles issued to other vehicles are as follows: Pontiac, 14; Plymouth, 10; Mercury, nine; Dodge and Oldsmobile, eight; motorcycles, seven; Volkswagen, six; Buick, International and Chrysler, four; Cadillac and GMC, three; Rambler, two; Mercedes Benz, Datsun, Fiat, Opel, Javelin, Kenworth, American and jeep, one.

Titles were also issued to 17 mobile homes, five travel trailers, one motorbike and six motorboats.

The court also filed 641 notations of liens and 518 cancellations of liens.

Council Briefs
Second Ward Councilman Harold Clifton asked the mayor to broaden a recommendation for the renovation of the city jail to include the entire city building.

Ervin Leist, public utilities director, told council he had applied for the city's permit to discharge partially treated waste expenses into the Scioto River. The present permit expires Sept. 15. Leist also said that bids would be accepted noon, Sept. 10, for a new accounting machine. The present accounting machine has ceased to function and the water department is posting accounts by hand.

Leist also reported that a complaint of an odor in the south end of Circleville had been traced to a site where septic tank cleaners were dumping wastes. The situation was remedied through cooperation of Container Corporation, owner of the land.

A survey of homes in the north end showed that 26 had downspouts connected to sewer lines. Leist said that many of these residents did not realize they were improperly connected. Some have taken steps on their own to correct the situation.

AUDREY Kearns sent a letter to council asking for exclusive rights for a taxi firm in the city. She said in her letter that when she bought the firm from John Robinson he agreed not to start another taxi firm in the city. She objected to the mini-bus line which council has okayed by city ordinance. Robinson has been given the franchise for the bus line.

William Immler, a Hillcrest Drive resident, asked council to improve surface drainage in the area. He noted that in storms, all the water in the area drained through his lot. He offered the city a permanent easement across his property to correct the situation.

Father, Daughter Fined in Court

A Circleville man and his daughter appeared in Circleville Municipal Court Tuesday as a result of charges filed during an incident Saturday.

According to reports during the hearing in court, Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark was called to a trailer in the A and W Trailer Court when neighbors reported an argument was in progress.

Deputy Clark found James R. Billups in an argument with his daughter, Anna Marie Billups, 18. He advised Billups to be quiet and departed.

Before Deputy Clark got to his cruiser, the argument broke out again. He arrested Billups for disturbing the peace and while escorting him to the cruiser, Deputy Clark was struck in the back of the head by Miss Billups, who was arrested for assault.

Miss Billups was fined $50 and costs by Judge Sterling Lamb, but half the fine was suspended. Billups was fined $15 and costs. Both had pleaded guilty.

Rome's famed Fountain of Trevi was completed in 1762 and is fed by an aqueduct constructed nearly 2,000 years ago.

Chamber Board Holds Meet At Hospital

Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met Tuesday noon for a luncheon meeting at Berger Hospital.

Robert Wilson, president, appointed a nominating committee consisting of Frank Gans, Lloyd Wardell and Bert Bennett. The committee, headed by Wilson, will prepare a slate of candidates to be elected at the November meeting.

Chaney Vance reported that the Hi Neighbor Day was a "huge success." He noted that about 500 tickets were sold that 257 attending the pork barbecue that climaxed the day-long event. Special thanks was given Nelson Stevens, a guest at the meeting, for his assistance with the project.

In other business, Wayne Smith, public relations chairman, reported that plans were progressing on the dedication ceremonies Sept. 21, for the Deer Creek Reservoir.

Dr. William Meyers, chairman of health and safety, told directors that a Columbus drug firm has a vomit inducing syrup available that should be "in every home."

Dr. Meyers pointed out that 20,000 lives are lost nationally every year due to accidental consumption of poisons etc. He said his committee would make an effort to get the solution, "Ipecac Syrup," into every home in Circleville. By having the syrup on hand, instead of the 15-20 minutes it would take to get an available doctor or a trip to the emergency room, could mean the difference between life and death.

Samples were given the chamber directors and the program to make the syrup available here was endorsed by the board.

Plane Crash Fatal to 89

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — An official of the Bulgarian airline Bulair said today an Ilyushin 18 airliner of the company crashed at Burgos, Bulgaria Tuesday night and 82 passengers and seven crew members were killed.

The official, reached by telephone from Vienna, said he did not know the nationalities of the crash victims. He added an official government announcement would be made later.

The official said the cause of the crash was not yet known. Unconfirmed reports reaching Vienna said most of the tourists were East Germans who were on a vacation on the Bulgarian Black Sea coast. It apparently was a charter flight.

Willard Cozad, superintendent of the Churches of Christ in Christian Union, and the Rev. Melvin Maxwell, president of Circleville Bible College. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Chillicothe.

Begin Relief Operations After Mideast Earthquakes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Shah and Empress of Iran flew to northeast Iran today to inspect the devastation of the weekend earthquakes that killed 11,000 of their people.

Some 1,400 miles to the west of Iran's stricken area, Turkish officials said 15 persons were killed Tuesday and some 200 were injured in an earthquake that jolted towns on the Black Sea east of Istanbul.

Iran's rulers were to visit the hardest hit villages including Kherzi, Mim and Kakhk. In Kakhk alone, some 6,000 persons died.

Relief officials said there had been no reports of epidemics in the shattered towns but that large quantities of disinfectant, vaccine and sterilized water were being taken to the stricken area.

Premier Amir Abass Hoveida said rescuers had abandoned attempts to recover more bodies because of the danger of epidemics. He ordered ruins leveled by bulldozers, burying the unrecovered dead in the rubble.

He said homes in the area would eventually be rebuilt in the area using steel beams and heavy bricks instead of the traditional mud and wood.

The Iranian Embassy in London appealed for money, tents and blankets to help the estimated 100,000 persons made homeless by the quakes. Oxfam, a British volunteer relief agency, said it was ready to fly in more than a ton of blankets.

The U.S. State Department said Ambassador Armin Meyer in Tehran was authorized to release $25,000 for medical and other aid for quake victims. The U.S. relief agency CARE said it had made several thousand packages of food available for the homeless.

Enrollment Up in County School System

Enrollment in Pickaway County Schools for the first day of classes Tuesday was 5,250 it was announced today by George D. McDowell, county superintendent.

McDowell said that he anticipates further enrollments within the next few days.

Last year's first day enrollment total in county schools was 4,722.

With 2,444 students, Teays Valley is the largest school district. The district has 681 students at Ashville Elementary, 493 at Scioto Elementary, 590 at Walnut Elementary and 690 in the high school.

THE entire district had 1,973 students on the first day last year for an increase of nearly 500.

Westfall district has a total of 1,593 students, compared to 1,584 last year, a slight decrease. Darby has 290 students, Jackson 284, Monroe 300, Williamsport 280 and the high school 439.

Logan Elm's enrollment is up 48 for the first day. The district has a total of 1,213 for the first day compared to 1,165 last year. Washington Twp. has 233 students, Salt Creek, 298, Pickaway 320, Logan Elm High School, 362.

County Court Handles 38 Cases in Aug.

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court disposed of 38 cases from a 288-case backlog during the month of August, according to Sara Dresbach, clerk of courts.

The court completed 15 domestic cases, four criminal cases and 19 civil cases during the month. During the same time period, 20 domestic relations, 15 other civil and 23 criminal cases were filed with the court.

The court, presided over by Judge William Ammer, had 230 cases pending at the beginning of the month. Of these, 103 were domestic relations, 110 other civil and 17 criminal cases.

Of the 38 cases disposed of, 14 were tried by the court, one by jury, four were default judgments and 19 were settled or dismissed.

At present seven cases tried by the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court are being considered for appeal by the District Court of Appeals.

2 More Parties Seeking Space On Ohio Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two more political parties have reacted to a federal court decision permitting secondary parties to run write-in candidates in Ohio's Nov. 5 general election.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Tuesday that the Socialist Workers Party of Ohio and the Committee for the Formation of the New Party have asked for instructions on how to file presidential electors.

A federal court decision last week opened the way for parties other than the Democratic and Republican organizations to run candidates. The ruling ordered the state to provide write-in space for other candidates.

Electric Car Race Is Over; Compute Victor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Great Electric Car Race ended at 7:45 a.m. today when a maroon and white battery-powered microbus piloted by California Institute of Technology students purred into the Massachusetts Institute of Technology campus.

The opposing MIT team, driving a converted Corvair, arrived on the Caltech campus in Pasadena, Calif., at 6:27 p.m. EDT Monday.

Editors of Machine Design magazine of Cleveland, Ohio, official judges, must now compute who won the race.

The race began at noon Aug. 26. Both entries traveled the same 3,300-mile route, only in opposite directions.

The MIT vehicle finished in 202.5 hours, including a total of 32.5 hours of penalties for towing.

The MIT car was towed several times and incurred 10 hours of penalty time. Shorn out its motor 130 miles before the finish line and had to be pulled the last lap.

Race rules include provisions for a penalty of five minutes for each mile towed.

The Caltech "Volkswagen" did not require towing.

Caltech's elapsed time, including penalties for towing, was 214 hours. This would indicate MIT the winner by 12 hours, but penalties are also computed for other reasons, including installation of new equipment along the way.

Stock Market Holds Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective strength today helped give the stock market its second straight rise since Labor Day. Trading was moderate early in the afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by some 300 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.42 at 903.78.

The average was biting into the upside resistance above the 900 level, which it has crossed and recrossed many times this year.

A reported rise in construction spending in July after two straight monthly declines, a series of price increases in the chemical industry, and a gain in new factory orders were encouraging background factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 334.9 with industrials up 1.9, rails unchanged, and utilities up .7.

American Telephone gave the list respectable investment leadership as it went far ahead on volume and climbed nearly a point, following a rise of 14 1/2 Tuesday. Its strength was attributed to brokerage-house recommendations which have drawn institutional buying to the issue which has been depressed for a long time.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Village Revenues 107.7 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Revenues of Ohio's 733 village governments during 1967 totaled more than $107.7 million with expenditures of more than $104.9 million, State Auditor Roger Cloud reported today.

He said the combined income was up more than $22.4 million over the previous year, while expenditures climbed more than $23.1 million.

He compiled the figures from the annual financial reports filed with his office by village clerks.

County Auditor Releases Funds Of $1,418,101

Funds totaling $1,418,101.83 were issued to Pickaway County townships, schools, cities and corporations by the county auditor's office last week, according to Marvin Rhoades, county auditor.

The funds, part of the August settlement, were derived from taxes on real estate, public utilities, inheritances, trailers, cigarettes and special assessments.

Schools in the county received the largest share of the money with $367,854.73.

Circleville City Schools received the largest share of the money with $367,854.73. Funds for other schools are as follows: Teays Valley $430,341.27; Westfall, $238,550.72; Logan Elm, $158,248.61; Miami Trace, $15,164.75; Deerfield $3,756.40 and Harrisburg, $3,313.83.

Townships received $188,140 for Harrison Twp. received the largest portion of the fund with $22,624.09. Circleville Twp. was second in the amount of funds received with $14,696.79.

Owner townships and money received was as follows: Darby, $7,214.79; Deer Creek, $3,455.77; Jackson, $7,843.06; Madison, $3,673.97; Monroe, $7,585.95; Muhlenberg, $3,176.82; Perry, $7,558.10; Pickaway, $6,042.81; Salt Creek, $5,000.74; Scioto $7,713.20; Walnut, $10,783.74.

Cities and corporations received funds totaling $82,730.68. Circleville was given $67,468.15; Harrisburg, $5.53; Williamsport, $1,766.86; Ashville, $8,642.71; South Bloomfield, $706.19; Darbyville, $167.55; New Holland, $2,227.25; Turlington, $235.92; Commercial Point, $852.96; and Orient, $657.56.

F111 Set To Return

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force chief of staff said today the F111A fighter-bomber, grounded after triple tragedy, is ready to resume combat missions in Vietnam.

"We are now ready to return the F111 to combat in Southeast Asia where it can again perform in the most challenging conflict environment yet encountered," he said.

The remarks by Gen. John P. McConnell supported an earlier declaration from Maj. Gen. Lee V. Gossick, deputy for the F111 program, that the F111, once the TFX, is "ready for combat operations again."

The Defense Department called a halt to F111 missions over Vietnam after three planes crashed, two of which were not recovered.

Air Force investigators said the cause of at least one crash, and perhaps others, was a faulty actuator rod in the tail assembly. The malfunction since has been corrected.

The mishaps added fuel to the lingering controversy over awarding of the multibillion dollar contract to General Dynamics-Fort Worth.

McConnell's comments were at an acceptance ceremony marking the turnover of the first F111C by the United States to the Australian government.

Australian Defense Minister Allen Fairhall accepted the sleek, swinging supersonic warplane on behalf of his government. The Australians have purchased 24.

It was announced the "fly-away" cost of teach aircraft would be $5.95 million.

Local Patrolman Apprehends Car Thief

E. G. Moore, local officer with the State Highway Patrol, apprehended an 18-year-old Youngstown youth driving a stolen car Tuesday.

Patrolman Moore reported that the car, recovered about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday on Route 71 south of Columbus, was stolen from Youngstown.

The youth, Robert Brunner, Youngstown, is being held in Columbus City Jail for Youngstown authorities.

THE "Dirty Dozen"

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle has given 52 Washington area Catholic priests until Sept. 14 to accept Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control or face church penalties.

Cardinal O'Boyle Tuesday called the priests' signed statement that married Catholics under some circumstances may be guided by their own consciences on using artificial contraception "an attack on authority."

He said he will insist on an individual retraction by each of the priests, but did not specify what he would do if they refuse. A spokesman for the priests has said they will refuse to retract their dissent. One, the Rev. T. Joseph O'Donoghue, already has been suspended for reading statements of dissent on the birth control encyclical during a sermon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that the Soviet Union launched its first missile carrying multiple warheads a week after a similar U.S. test has been neither confirmed nor denied by the Pentagon.

Newsweek magazine said this week the Soviets tested a multiple independently-targeted reentry missile (MIRV)—carrying four warheads—in August. The Pentagon declined comment, as it often does on sensitive matters to prevent tipping off a potential enemy on the effectiveness of U.S. intelligence.

France's H-Bomb

French scientists have successfully fired an H-bomb over a Pacific atoll to the great personal satisfaction of Gen. de Gaulle and what he considers the greater glory of France.

The explosion resulting from the fusion of thermonuclear materials culminates eight years of experimentation and not a little sacrifice to reach a stage the United States attained in 1952.

As a more amenable member of NATO, DeGaulle could have shared in the protection of an international atomic shield and at far less expense to the French people.

Instead, De Gaulle chose to prove French science could run a close second to Red China's. He also succeeded in raising the world's radiation level.

As for improving chances for world peace, he's raised another roadblock for the disarmament conference which resumes in Geneva with the poorest prospect for reaching agreement in 17 years of trying.

Perhaps the general has made his people feel a little more secure. More than likely, though, they, too, are finding the world is getting a little more perilous every day.

More Fairs?

San Antonio's HemisFair was designed on a fairly modest scale, as expositions go. Built for something more than $150 million, it was geared to break even if it drew 7.2 million visitors in its 26-week season.

That did not seem beyond reach in a state which claims to have drawn 20 million tourists last year, without a fair, and which has 11 million people of its own.

But with only weeks to go, HemisFair is running short of expectations.

Thus the exposition appears to be headed for a familiar fate — the red.

This raises anew the question of how much longer such shows, even if artistic successes, will merit drains on investors' and exhibitors' pocketbooks.

This becomes particularly pertinent when it involves tapping the taxpayers, as it inevitably does. More than $65 million of HemisFair's stake came from federal, Texas and San Antonio taxpayers.

Raises Granted Without Funds

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Youngstown Board of Education said Tuesday it will ask the Mahoning County Common Pleas Court to rule on whether it can approve pay increases for teachers without having the money to back them up.

Earlier the board approved 4.3 a salary increase and paid hospitalization program for teachers, averting a threatened boycott of classes when schools open today.

But the board said it would have to submit the decision to the court because the increases would cost $1.5 million per year and there is not enough money to cover the raises.

The great ocean liner "Queen Mary" is now to be a floating museum anchored off the coast of California. When it was launched in the early 1930's, it was the last word in luxury. The builders even engaged Rudyard Kipling to supply a motto for the ship in Latin. When a couple of smart-aleck directors of the Cusard Line huffed that Kipling's Latin was that of a schoolboy and needed help from pundits in Oxford and Cambridge, Kipling had the extreme pleasure of informing them, "Do you suppose I was ass enough to compose a Latin motto of my own? You will find the one I submitted, word for word, in the Odes of Horace." The directors thereupon accepted the motto unanimously.

From the notebooks of Francis Duffy:

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

What causes an ulcer of the cervix of the uterus? The cervix of the uterus is the strong muscular part that extends into the vagina. The uterus or womb is pear shaped and the cervix is the narrow portion through which a child passes at the time of delivery.

An ulcer or erosion of the cervix can be the result of overdistension during childbirth or infections and cysts which seem to develop when the cervix is inflamed. An infection of the cervix is known as cervicitis and may be caused by bacteria, parasites, fungi, molds, and yeasts that are responsible for infections anywhere else in the body.

Vaginal bleeding or discharge (leucorrhea) call the patient's attention to the possibility that some unusual condition is present. The doctor is able to inspect the cervix with a light instrument or speculum. Cultures can be made to find the offending germ or organism. A special parasite, trichomonas, is commonly found in the vaginal canal and in and on the cervix. There are now excellent medicines which can keep such infections under complete control.

Erosions of the cervix can almost always be cured by cauterizing the area with silver nitrate or with an electric current. Both of these processes are painless and the recovery is almost always complete in a few weeks.

Only when the cervix is severely eroded is surgery performed on it. Some women with chronic cervicitis have found that they were unable to become pregnant until the infection or erosion is completely cured.

How do people learn to speak when their voice box has been removed by surgery? The vocal cords are two strands of muscle that come together when we speak and separate when we breathe. They are about an inch long and lie in the larynx or voice box. The Adam's apple or one feels in the midline of their neck is part of the larynx that houses the vocal cords.

A cancer of the larynx that involves only one vocal cord can be removed without taking out the entire larynx. When a

Sleepwalker Takes Speedy Tumble

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Craig Elliott's latest sleepwalk was more like a high-speed tumble. Slipping out of the lower bunk of his parent's camper truck, he tumbled and tumbled 50 miles an hour on a busy freeway.

Craig, 14, suffered only bruises. A California Highway Patrol car happened to be right behind, and carried him to General Hospital.

"Craig's been sleepwalking since he was 3," said Wanda Elliott, his mother. "Nothing like this ever happened before."

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — As the impact of recent charges and court cases is absorbed by the financial community, the significance of recent government moves is becoming apparent. They are attempts to protect the small investor.

As the number of shareholders increased fourfold in 15 years, inequities in what some people on Wall Street like to call people's capitalism have been made to glare.

The emergence of a middle class with money for stocks has thrown the naive in with the sophisticates. And, next to experience and basic intelligence, the difference is primarily one of information.

There is a great disparity in the quality and timing of information available to the public compared with that to which a select group is privy. This has been the situation for so long that it is, in fact, thoroughly ingrained; it has, in fact, been the basis on which some traders have made their money.

Now the Securities and Exchange Commission appears to be saying that there is no reason why this old, club-like atmosphere should continue, especially when the welfare of 24 million shareholders is involved. At least three decisions or charges are establishing the new patterns:

1. A ruling in SEC vs. Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. that stated, in essence, that nobody can trade for personal profit with information intended only for corporate use, knowing that the information is not publicly available.

The case was developed after the SEC detected purchases by Texas Gulf officials prior to the announcement of a major ore strike in Ontario.

2. Accusations by the SEC that Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, the nation's biggest broker, violated antifraud laws in that it provided information on an earnings decline at Douglas Aircraft to institutional investors while withholding it from smaller investors. Merrill Lynch denies the charges.

3. A court decision involving BarChris Construction Corp., a builder and operator of bowling alleys, in which a prospectus failed to include information that might be construed as derogatory.

Individuals claimed they purchased stock in BarChris without realizing it was also an operator of bowling alleys, which you might remember suddenly dropped out of favor a few years back.

This seems to leave anyone connected with a misleading securities offering personally liable for damages. It includes accountants, officers, directors, underwriters.

There are several other cases in which the release of information or the withholding of misleading information is attacked. A couple of cases, at least, involve suits against accountants for not discovering errors in profit calculations.

Until clarification is reached, however, thousands of persons remotely or intimately connected with shares in American industry must walk a tightrope under the most distressing circumstances, for they are quaking inwardly.

The analyst asks now if he must eliminate hunches and tips and concentrate instead on hard, factual information.

The corporate director worries that by serving on a board he might leave himself open to a personal liability suit from a disgruntled stockholder.

The company president fears to talk with his wife about office affairs, lest his wife innocently divulge inside information to a bridge partner.

Negroes Were No Problem

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO — One of the few heartening things about the democratic convention in Chicago was that the Negroes, with the exception of comedian Dick Gregory and the Reverend Ralph Abernathy, chose to stay clear of the malodorous yippie movement. And, a hopeful augury for the long run, many of the Negroes seemed to be trying to advance their cause within the traditional enclosure of the normal two-party political system.

The Reverend Abernathy, departing from the conventional pattern set by the late Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., joined the yippies in calling the cops "pigs." "Nothing," he told his yippie listeners, "is taking place in the amphitheatre. You are the Democratic convention. It is happening here, and more will take place because we are going to seek it to 'em, baby.'"

This sort of thing may turn out to be a major miscalculation on the Reverend Abernathy's part. For a while he was declaring himself outside the two party process, Negroes over in the amphitheatre convention hall were busy staking out their claim to be a piece of traditional political action.

Before going to Chicago, I knew nothing about the District of Columbia Negro leader, the Reverend Channing Emory Phillips. He had been part of a D. C. group dedicated to nominating Senator Robert Kennedy for the presidency. But the D. C. delegation was robbed of its opportunity to vote for Kennedy by the assassination in Los Angeles. So, seeking that "newer world," which Bobby Kennedy likened to talk about, the D. C. group came up with the surprise decision to place the Reverend Phillips' name before the convention.

The move was purely symbolic, of course. Channing Phillips never had a chance for a big vote. But the interesting thing is that he got more than a token vote in two places. His own District of Columbia gave him twenty-one votes to two for Hubert Humphrey. And big, split-up California honored him with seventeen votes, which was three more than Humphrey managed to eke from Jesse Unruh's unpredictable delegation. Beyond the D. C. and California tallies, Reverend Phillips drew a scattering from sixteen states. His grand total was a respectable sixty-seven and one-half votes.

An orchard of peach trees was recently uprooted and shipped by air from California to France, where the 35,000 trees were replanted. The American shipper, building a peach-rearing factory in Nimes, took this means of ensuring a steady supply of American cling peaches.

Delegate Philip Stern of the District of Columbia put the Reverend Phillips' name before the convention not for racial reasons, but because his candidate was "a serious man of public affairs." But the experience that made the Reverend Phillips a "serious" choice is obviously one that commands him to Negroes as something more than an Uncle Tom representative.

The Reverend Phillips, a handsome, young-looking forty, was born in the ghetto, and took his insults as a soldier in an all-black unit of a segregated army. The New York Times, a New York newspaper published by Roy Innes of Core, who is a Negro separatist, and William Haddad, who believes in integration, plays the Reverend Phillips up — which could mean that he is the coming spokesman for militant blacks who hope to work within the American political process.

In another manifestation of Negro willingness to make use of the normal political machinery, Georgia's Julian Bond was nominated for the vice presidency in a mini-rebellion against the Humphrey-dictated choice of Senator Ed Muskie of Maine. The bond candidacy was picking up votes here and there until, he himself, deflated it by rising to tell the convention that he was too young to be legally eligible for the job.

Chicago's reputation was badly hurt by the TV broadcasts of police response to the yippie provocations. But give Mayor Daley his due, he managed to persuade Chicago's huge Negro population to boycott the yippies. The eighty-three Chicago policemen who were injured in yippie confrontations were the victims of white, not Negro, displeasure. The failure of the New Left to bring the Negroes into the politics of extra-political confrontation bodes well for the future of America.

Claim to Fame

By GENE HANDSAKER
(For Bob Thomas)
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Outside of having a natural disaster or a famous son, a town's best chance for fame may be to capture a comedian's fancy.

Three Los Angeles suburbs were relatively obscure until Jack Benny's stationmaster in 1941 began 24 years of bawling on radio and television: "I am leaves on track five for Anaheim, Azusa and Cucamonga."

Vaudesians used to stutter, "I'm from Nalla Twalia, the town they n-named twice."

The latest comedy-celebrated community is Burbank, population 97,000, whose chamber of commerce threw a big civic luncheon the other day to honor television's Dan Rowan and Dick Martin for references to "beautiful downtown Burbank" on their "Laugh-In" series. The comedians tape the show at the NBC studios in the suburb.

The "lunch-in" had all the trimmings: Rowan, Martin and their cast arriving on shrieking Burbank fire trucks . . . about 1,000 diners . . . a congressman and several state legislators on the dais . . . honorary chamber memberships and ambassadorial sashes for Dan and Dick . . . kisses from Miss Burbank, Terry Murphy.

"You have made 'beautiful downtown Burbank' a nationally recognized slogan," Mayor John B. Whitney intoned.

The honors actually represented a turning of the other cheek. Rowan and Martin—ignoring the town's $1 million shopping mall, starlight theater and other attractions—had filmed and shown the national audience a dilapidated motel, trash-littered alleys and other views as "beautiful downtown Burbank."

"Luckily," said Rowan, "we have a community with a sense of humor."

The reverse of praise has paid off in tourist-attracting publicity "you couldn't afford to buy," said the mayor. A tourist wrote him, "We drove all the way from Cleveland to see beautiful downtown Burbank."

New York comics still get laughs with Brooklyn. And a grateful Waukegan, Benny's oft-mentioned home town, named a junior high school for him.

Other aspects of show business also publicize towns:

—Television series titles: Laramie, Laredo and Gunsmoke's Dodge City.

—Songs: "San Francisco," "Chicago," "Memphis Blues," "Kalamazoo"—the list is almost endless.

Plaques and awards express Tijuana's gratitude to Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass for worldwide attention.

And producer-entree Ralph Edwards literally put Truth or Consequences, N.M., on the map in 1950 by persuading Hot Springs, N.M., to change its name to that of his radio-TV show. Every year since, he has taken a troupe of stars there for a four-day fiesta.

The town has grown in population from 4,700 to 6,700 and twice voted down proposals to change its name back to Hot Springs, most recently by about 6 to 1.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television has a way of pigeonholing its performers and commentators.

At CBS News, for instance, there is Eric Sevareid, instant international analyst, Harry Reasoner, house humorist, Walter Cronkite, impartial journalist.

To this list must now be added Charles Kuralt, Americana specialist with a special ability to dig up and dramatize good news.

Kuralt many months ago was given a camera crew and a white camper truck and traveled the back roads and byways of the nation seeking out happy events and pleasant people to tell about.

CBS patched together a number of his reports about this segment of the American scene for a half hour special Tuesday night. It could not have arrived at a better time.

Kuralt and company investigated autumn leaves in Vermont, Greek sponge divers in Tarpon Springs, Fla., country music in Maryland. He found a jaunty college professor who retired to become a janitor at his college and, at 87, reflected that life was still exciting—"good books to read, good fish to catch, pretty women to see, good men to know..."

OK Prosecution Of Liquor Cases By Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three judges from the 1st District Court of Appeals have handed down a decision permitting the city to prosecute persons bringing into Ohio liquor purchased in Kentucky.

Judge Raymond E. Shannon held that Alfred Seta, 47, Cincinnati, can be prosecuted under state law—reversing an earlier municipal court ruling.

In his opinion Tuesday, Shannon said state law required a "carrier-for-hire" to secure a license. The municipal court ruling dismissed the charge against Seta on a motion upholding the contention that evidence did not show Seta to be a carrier-for-hire.

Seta was arrested November 16, 1967, by Cincinnati police after Ohio liquor agents followed him from Kentucky where he had purchased 10 cases of whiskey, authorities said.

Copper can be drawn into such a thin wire that a four-inch square bar produces a thread 20 million times the length of the ingot.

The CBS reporter watched as people in Reno, Nev., spurred by the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., turned an empty lot into a playground in 48 hours of volunteer labor. The point, Kuralt emphasized, was not so much the finished playground as the effort that built it.

He showed a keen sense of nostalgia in the imminent passing of a 200-year-old flour mill which was no longer profitable. He took a journey on the old river boat, the Delta Queen, down the Mississippi, explaining that it would probably end its runs in a couple of years. He sat in a diner on the Wabash Cannonball and reflected on the great days of railroading.

All in all it was a peaceful, charming and heartwarming 30 minutes.

Earlier, NBC's "Showcase '68" wound up its short summer season devoted to spotlighting new talent by awarding a $10,000 check to the winner of its elimination contest. It went to a musical group call Sly and the Stone Family.

National Nielsen ratings estimating the size of the TV audience for the Democratic National Convention indicate that slightly more than one-third of the nation's sets were tuned in to all or part of the goings-on.

NBC's "Meet the Press" will interview Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, Republican candidate for vice president, on Sunday.

ABC's "Peyton Place" will start its fifth year on Sept. 23 with its 463rd episode and after one million and a quarter feet of film have been unreel on the living room screens. In that time 34 writers have turned out script for almost 75 featured players who have come and gone.

Something To Think About . . . A Time for 'Letting Go'

By JEAN CRIST

It's quiet now. The noise and confusion is gone, the house and its contents are still. The peace of a temporarily childless household has descended and I sit here with my second cup of tea to contemplate my day. This is the time I've looked forward to for several weeks now, the first day of school. I will have more time to myself and there will be no lunches to prepare. I can do my work without interruption and will be able to keep the house in a more orderly fashion. The thought of these things should make me feel happy, this is what I've told myself I wanted. But strangely enough, it doesn't seem to overcome the sense of emptiness I feel, not this morning.

Once again I watched them go down the road which leads them away from home and to a world of challenge. Into the beginning of a new school year which will bring them questions and answers, successes and failures, joys and heartaches. The complexity of this world they enter makes me tremble, but they must not know I tremble. It is a world where they learn to become less someone's son or daughter and more an individual in their own right. Where they must learn to make their own decisions and reap the rewards or suffer the consequences of those decisions. Where the people who teach them have little time to be aware of their special qualities and limitations, and where the only gods are performance and results. Where they learn, of necessity, often painfully, that the world as a whole cares little for them as a person but is primarily interested in what results they can produce. These harsh, but real, facts of life must be met and dealt with even now, at what seems to me to be a tender age to cope with such weighty problems.

Knowing these things, I can't help but question myself this morning as I have other mornings when I have sent them to school to start a new year. Are they ready for this year? Have their father and I given them the direction and guidance they need to face the challenges with confidence and make more successes than failures for themselves? Do they have the love and support at home that will enable them to take the bumps and bruises of personality that come with growing up and bounce back, able to feel that people are still fun to be with? Have we been able to teach them respect for authority and make them realize the real need in their lives for discipline so that at some future date when they take over the management of their own lives, they will know the advantage of being able to govern their own mind?

And most of all, I wonder if we have been successful in our attempt to "let go?" Observing other families who have raised children of whom they could be proud, has led me to believe that the key to success in this realm is that of maintaining a delicate balance between loving and supporting the child in his endeavors and a constant but slow process of releasing the child to be whatever is within him to become. For mothers in particular, this is probably the most difficult, yet the most necessary act she can do for the good of her children. I guess this is why the empty, rather sad feeling I have today. It is a day of "letting go" and I know, only one of the many that are yet to come.

But enough of this! It's a beautiful morning and I have many things to do. I don't know why I have to go through these tearful few minutes every year, but I guess it's part of the nature of a mother. The children are very capable and will be able to handle themselves well . . . still, they looked very small going down that road.

Autry Offers Bill Rigney New Contract

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angels' owner Gene Autry has offered Manager Bill Rigney a multiyear contract and a chance to own stock in the American League club, informed sources said today.

Rigney, now wrapping up his

12th year as a major league manager and the senior pilot in the junior circuit, reportedly broke a golf date today to confer with a tax consultant and stock broker about the offer.

The 50-year-old manager has worked under one-year contracts with the Angels since their birth in the league's 1961 expansion. Before that, from 1956 to 1960, he managed the National League Giants both in New York and San Francisco.

Autry also reportedly assured Rigney that he is next-in-line to succeed Fred Haney as the club's general manager. Haney, 70, recently said he has given no thought to retirement.

Rigney has been the center of recent rumors that he will leave the Angels at the end of the season to manage the Giants, the Chicago White Sox or the American League expansion Kansas City Royals.

Ladies' Man?

CHUCK DOUGHERTY

As the Soft Water "Answer Man," local Lindsay dealer often gets typically feminine questions like this:

Q: Do they tear up my basement to install a Lindsay Water Softener? Is it a mess? How long does it take?

A: No, no, and not long! A Lindsay Water Softener comes to you shining clean as a new washing machine... and just as beautifully designed. It's installed perhaps even more quickly. Nobody tears up your basement. Installation is done within a day... by trained soft water experts. And, if you need us later you deal with us person-to-person... not with a big store who never heard of you before.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television has a way of pigeonholing its performers and commentators.

At CBS News, for instance, there is Eric Sevareid, instant international analyst, Harry Reasoner, house humorist, Walter Cronkite, impartial journalist.

To this list must now be added Charles Kuralt, Americana specialist with a special ability to dig up and dramatize good news.

Kuralt many months ago was given a camera crew and a white camper truck and traveled the back roads and byways of the nation seeking out happy events and pleasant people to tell about.

CBS patched together a number of his reports about this segment of the American scene for a half hour special Tuesday night. It could not have arrived at a better time.

Kuralt and company investigated autumn leaves in Vermont, Greek sponge divers in Tarpon Springs, Fla., country music in Maryland. He found a jaunty college professor who retired to become a janitor at his college and, at 87, reflected that life was still exciting—"good books to read, good fish to catch, pretty women to see, good men to know."

OK Prosecution Of Liquor Cases By Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three judges from the 1st District Court of Appeals have handed down a decision permitting the city to prosecute persons bringing into Ohio liquor purchased in Kentucky.

Judge Raymond E. Shannon held that Alfred Seta, 47, Cincinnati, can be prosecuted under state law—reversing an earlier municipal court ruling.

In his opinion Tuesday, Shannon said state law required a "carrier-for-hire" to secure a license. The municipal court ruling dismissed the charge against Seta on a motion upholding the contention that evidence did not show Seta to be a carrier-for-hire.

Seta was arrested November 16, 1967, by Cincinnati police after Ohio liquor agents followed him from Kentucky where he had purchased 10 cases of whiskey, authorities said.

Copper can be drawn into such a thin wire that a four-inch square bar produces a thread 20 million times the length of the ingot.

The CBS reporter watched as people in Reno, Nev., spurred by the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., turned an empty lot into a playground in 48 hours of volunteer labor. The point, Kuralt emphasized, was not so much the finished playground as the effort that built it.

He showed a keen sense of nostalgia in the imminent passing of a 200-year-old flour mill which was no longer profitable. He took a journey on the old river boat, the Delta Queen, down the Mississippi, explaining that it would probably end its runs in a couple of years. He sat in a diner on the Wabash Cannonball and reflected on the great days of railroading.

All in all it was a peaceful, charming and heartwarming 30 minutes.

Earlier, NBC's "Showcase '68" wound up its short summer season devoted to spotlighting new talent by awarding a $10,000 check to the winner of its elimination contest. It went to a musical group call Sly and the Stone Family.

National Nielsen ratings estimating the size of the TV audience for the Democratic National Convention indicate that slightly more than one-third of the nation's sets were tuned in to all or part of the goings-on.

NBC's "Meet the Press" will interview Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, Republican candidate for vice president, on Sunday.

ABC's "Peyton Place" will start its fifth year on Sept. 23 with its 463rd episode and after one million and a quarter feet of film have been unreeled on the living room screens. In that time 34 writers have turned out script for almost 75 featured players who have come and gone.

8 Ohio Soldiers Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight Ohio servicemen have been killed in recent action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

The victims: Army Cpl. Samuel F. Morgan, whose widow, Frances, lives in Vandalia; Army Cpl. James C. Nau, whose widow, Carolyn, lives in Montville (Geauga County); Navy Hospital Corpsman 3-C. Charles R. Golling, whose sister, Jean Golling, lives in Nevada (Wyandot County), and these Marines:

Sgt. Harold L. Zug Jr., Fairborn; Lance Cpl. David L. Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Andrews, Rt. 3, Wilmington; Lance Cpl. Richard A. Brown, Columbus; Pfc. Thomas R. Lind Pomeroy, and Pfc. Robert W. McGill, Dayton.

Something To Think About . . .

A Time for 'Letting Go'

By JEAN CRIST

It's quiet now. The noise and confusion is gone, the house and it's contents are still. The peace of a temporarily childless household has descended and I sit here with my second cup of tea to contemplate my day. This is the time I've looked forward to for several weeks now, the first day of school. I will have more time to myself and there will be no lunches to prepare. I can do my work without interruption and will be able to keep the house in a more orderly fashion. The thought of these things should make me feel happy, this is what I've told myself I wanted. But strangely enough, it doesn't seem to overcome the sense of emptiness I feel, not this morning.

Once again I watched them go down the road which leads them away from home and to a world of challenge. Into the beginning of a new school year which will bring them questions and answers, successes and failures, joys and heartaches. The complexity of this world they enter makes me tremble, but they must not know I tremble. It is a world where they learn to become less someone's son or daughter and more an individual in their own right. Where they must learn to make their own decisions and reap the rewards or suffer the consequences of those decisions. Where the people who teach them have little time to be aware of their special qualities and limitations, and where the only gods are performance and results. Where they learn, of necessity, often painfully, that the world as a whole cares little for them as a person but is primarily interested in what results they can produce. These harsh, but real, facts of life must be met and dealt with even now, at what seems to me to be a tender age to cope with such weighty problems.

Knowing these things, I can't help but question myself this morning as I have other mornings when I have sent them to school to start a new year. Are they ready for this year? Have their father and I given them the direction and guidance they need to face the challenges with confidence and make more successes than failures for themselves? Do they have the love and support at home that will enable them to take the bumps and bruises of personality that come with growing up and bounce back, able to feel that people are still fun to be with? Have we been able to teach them respect for authority and make them realize the real need in their lives for discipline so that at some future date when they take over the management of their own lives, they will know the advantage of being able to govern their own mind?

And most of all, I wonder if we have been successful in our attempt to "let go?" Observing other families who have raised children of whom they could be proud, has led me to believe that the key to success in this realm is that of maintaining a delicate balance between loving and supporting the child in his endeavors and a constant but slow process of releasing the child to be whatever is within him to become. For mothers in particular, this is probably the most difficult, yet the most necessary act she can do for the good of her children. I guess this is why the empty, rather sad feeling I have today. It is a day of "letting go" and I know, only one of the many that are yet to come.

But enough of this! It's a beautiful morning and I have many things to do. I don't know why I have to go through these tearful few minutes every year, but I guess it's part of the nature of a mother. The children are very capable and will be able to handle themselves well . . . still, they looked very small going down that road.

Autry Offers Bill Rigney New Contract

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angels' owner Gene Autry has offered Manager Bill Rigney a multiyear contract and a chance to own stock in the American League club, informed sources said today.

Rigney, now wrapping up his

12th year as a major league manager and the senior pilot in the junior circuit, reportedly broke a golf date today to confer with a tax consultant and stock broker about the offer.

The 50-year-old manager has worked under one-year contracts with the Angels since their birth in the league's 1961 expansion. Before that, from 1956 to 1960, he managed the National League Giants both in New York and San Francisco.

Autry also reportedly assured Rigney that he is next-in-line to succeed Fred Haney as the club's general manager. Haney, 70, recently said he has given no thought to retirement.

Rigney has been the center of recent rumors that he will leave the Angels at the end of the season to manage the Giants, the Chicago White Sox or the American League expansion Kansas City Royals.

Train Derails Near Waverly

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP) — Twenty cars of an 83-car Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad freight train derailed about seven miles southeast of here early today. No one was injured.

Authorities said 14 of the cars were carrying general cargo, and six were empty.

Cause of the derailment was not determined immediately, but authorities said the sixth car behind the engine left the tracks and started the derailment of the other cars.

The train was bound from Columbus to Russell, Ky.

Miss Lochie L. MacKenzie, Richard D. Kline Are Wed

MRS. RICHARD DAVID KLINE

Miss Lochie Louise MacKenzie and Richard David Kline exchanged wedding vows 7:30 p.m. Aug. 24, in Trinity Lutheran Church. Pastor Carl G. Zehner performed the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with vases of white gladioli and yellow mums, and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard MacKenzie, 506 Forest Drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Kline, Route 2.

Mrs. Thomas Downing, organist, and George Weller, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding day a gown of white silk chiffon over deglazed bridal satin. The gown featured an empire waist and detachable chapel train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced the waistline, and the bodice was fashioned with an oval neckline and Kabuchi sleeves of Alencon lace. A forward rose of silk-faced peau with Alencon lace

Shirley Thomas, Don Peterson Exchange Vows

On Saturday, Aug. 31, at 4 p.m. Miss Shirley Ann Thomas became the bride of the Rev. Don E. Peterson of Columbus.

Miss Thomas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Thomas, 526 E. Mound St., and Mr. Peterson is the son of Mrs. Don Easter of Thornville, and the late Mr. Fred Peterson.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church by the Rev. Eugene Flowers in the presence of members of the immediate family. The altar was decorated with candelabra and vases of white gladioli.

The new Mrs. Peterson is a 1967 graduate of Circleville High School and attended Ohio University in Chillicothe. She was employed at the local J. C. Penny Co.

Mr. Peterson graduated from Ohio University at Athens in 1968 with a BA degree. In September he will begin studies at Capital Evangelical Lutheran Seminary, Columbus. He is pastor of the E. Eighth Ave. United Methodist Church in Columbus.

Following a trip through the Smoky Mountains the couple will reside at 91 E. Eighth Ave. (B), Columbus.

Chapter 90 OES Slates Session

Circleville Chapter 90 Order of Eastern Star will meet 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Masonic Temple.

Emmett Chapel Junior MYF Meets at Lake

Emmett Chapel Jr. MYF met recently at Hargus Lake with 12 members present. The business session was conducted by the out-going president, Cindy Myers.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mickey Hildenbrand, president; Cindy Myers, vice president; Diana Gifford, secretary; Cathy Valentine, treasurer; Jess Hall, news reporter; Debbie Hanigan and Linda Myers, recreation leaders. Mrs. William Hildenbrand is adviser for the group.

Members agreed to meet the fourth Saturday of each month from 1 to 3 p.m. in their homes. The next meeting will be in the home of Mickey and Doug Hildenbrand from where they will go out to sell packages of combs as a money-making project.

A Bike Hike is planned for Saturday, Sept. 21, beginning 10 a.m. at Logan Elm Park. Each rider is asked to bring a sack lunch. A family picnic is being planned.

After the business session games were played. Keith Dumm and Diana Gifford won the bubble gum blowing contest.

Present were Debbie Hanigan, Linda and Cindy Myers, Susan and Linda Mayberry, Cathy Valentine, Diana Gifford, Brock Bell, Doug and Mickey Hildenbrand, Keith Dumm and Gary Hall. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Dumm and Kevin, Hazel Dumm, Mrs. Orville Gifford, and Mrs. William Hildenbrand.

Refreshments were served by Diana Gifford and Cathy Valentine. The day was closed with devotions and a prayer circle.

Anniversary Celebrated With Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fausnaugh, Stoutsville, were honored Sunday with a family dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noble E. Barr, 160 Town St.

Attending the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Seimer, Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. Seimer of Lancaster and Mrs. Viola Seimer of Amanda.

Women's Society Plans Session

Scioto Chapel Women's Society will meet 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Parish House. Hostesses will be Mrs. William Nichols, Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Frank Noggle and Mrs. Cecil Ward.

Mrs. MacKenzie wore a yellow crepe sheath dress with a lace jacket. Mrs. Kline was attired in a brown crepe dress with orange accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

A reception in the Parish House followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with a silver wedding cross and surrounded by daisies and ferns. The tables were covered with white net trimmed with green and white bells. Hostesses were Miss Betsy Barnhart, Miss Sheryl Wood, Mrs. Jane Arledge and Mrs. Judy McFarland.

For a wedding trip to Colorado the bride wore a yellow organdy sheath dress. Following the trip the couple will reside at Route 2.

The bride is a graduate of Circleville High School and is employed by Du Pont in the construction office.

Mr. Kline, also a graduate of Circleville High School, will be engaged in farming following his discharge from the U.S. Army this summer.

Out-of-town guest at the wedding were from Midland, Coleman and Detroit, Mich., Columbus and Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kline hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening. A centerpiece of yellow and white mums decorated the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fausnaugh, Stoutsville, were honored Sunday with a family dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noble E. Barr, 160 Town St.

Attending the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Seimer, Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. Seimer of Lancaster and Mrs. Viola Seimer of Amanda.

Women's Society Plans Session

Scioto Chapel Women's Society will meet 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Parish House. Hostesses will be Mrs. William Nichols, Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Frank Noggle and Mrs. Cecil Ward.

Samuel Weller served as best man. Seating the guests were Roger Kline, Larry Mallett, Chris MacKenzie and Kris Kline. Ring bearer was Master Ken Kline.

Mrs. MacKenzie wore a yellow crepe sheath dress with a lace jacket. Mrs. Kline was attired in a brown crepe dress with orange accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

A reception in the Parish House followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with a silver wedding cross and surrounded by daisies and ferns. The tables were covered with white net trimmed with green and white bells. Hostesses were Miss Betsy Barnhart, Miss Sheryl Wood, Mrs. Jane Arledge and Mrs. Judy McFarland.

For a wedding trip to Colorado the bride wore a yellow organdy sheath dress. Following the trip the couple will reside at Route 2.

The bride is a graduate of Circleville High School and is employed by Du Pont in the construction office.

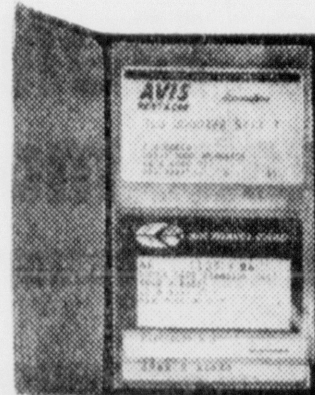

Mr. Kline, also a graduate of Circleville High School, will be engaged in farming following his discharge from the U.S. Army this summer.

Out-of-town guest at the wedding were from Midland, Coleman and Detroit, Mich., Columbus and Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kline hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening. A centerpiece of yellow and white mums decorated the table.

Family Reunion Is Scheduled

The program of the Rector-Wiggins - Terwilliger - Rose Reunion, Sept. 8, Mt. Pleasant Church, will center around Martha Rector Owens with reminiscences and pictures. Martha and William Owens had a large family and a number of descendants still live in the Circleville, Mt. Pleasant and Williamsport area. William Owens died fairly young (54 years in 1886) and Martha passed away in 1925 at the age of 83.

Three grandchildren of Martha Rector Owens are officers of the reunion this year: Mrs. Fred Bowscher, Circleville, is president; Ralph Coleman, Williamsport, is vice-president; and Mrs. Paul Counts, Route 2, Circleville, is treasurer. David Webb, Circleville, great-grandson, will play harmonica solos.

In addition to the Owens material there will be a quilt, pictures, and handmade what-not from home of Henry Clay Rector and wife, Martha Hurst, who left Pickaway County in early 1860's. This display was sent by granddaughter in California. The quilt was made by Martha Hurst when she was sixteen years of age.

The usual pot-luck dinner will be held at 12 o'clock at Mt. Pleasant church on Route 138 off Route 22 going southwest from Circleville. The program will take place about 1:30.

Child Conservation League Will Meet

Mrs. Frank Estes, 605 Ridgewood Drive, will host Child Conservation League in her home 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Red Chinese Missile Lag May Allow Delay by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red China is nearly a year late testing its first long-range missiles and Pentagon officials say the lag may allow the United States to put off starting a controversial defense system tailored to the Chinese threat.

"We don't see any evidence of Chinese preparations for an ICBM test," one official said.

Defense sources said the U.S. government has information that elements pushing Mao Tse Tung's cultural revolution have been harassing nuclear and missile scientists and managers.

"For a long time, U.S. authorities felt that these elite specialists were exempted from attack as China placed an apparent top priority on developing an intercontinental ballistic missile arsenal."

Major Cities

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Two Brazilian cities are among the largest in the world today, according to the Brazilian Research Institute.

The two cities are Sao Paulo, with 5,685,000 inhabitants, and Rio de Janeiro, with 4,270,000.

Back in January 1967, then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara forecast to Congress that Red China might stage a long-range missile test before the end of 1967.

McNamara predicted last September that Red China would have "an initial intercontinental ballistic missile capability in the early 1970's."

With a slippage of nearly a year in testing the first Chinese ICBM, it is logical to assume that the Chinese effort to develop a full weapon system is lagging.

This, in turn, would seem to ease the urgency of going ahead with deployment soon of a U.S. system designed to guard the United States against a possible Chinese missile attack.

Officials said there has been some discussion in the Pentagon of whether or not the Sentinel antimissile system deployment should be stretched out.

There has been no change in the decision to go ahead with the $5-billion Sentinel, these officials said, but the possibility has been raised of deferring its start for some months.

2.8 Million Ohio Pupils Back in School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About 2,766,300 pupils are expected to return to school this week, an increase of 28,200 over the 1967-68 school year, the Ohio Department of Education said Tuesday.

Attendance in public schools this year is expected to reach 2,385,900. The figure during 1967-68 was 2,357,647.

Roman Catholic schools predict 355,344 students will be enrolled in parochial schools this year, compared with 361,856 the past school year.

State education chief Martin W. Essex said recently that although Ohio still has a shortage of degree-holding college graduates, the teaching outlook in Ohio looks better this year than it has in the past 10 years.

Warm Regard

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A 59-year-old woman, charged with arson after her home burned, said in District Court she admitted setting fire to the house to protect her husband. She said she was afraid he had dropped a burning cigarette behind a couch cushion and she didn't want him blamed. The charge was dismissed.

Hamilton County Judge Takes Tough Stand

By JOHN W. CHACE
Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Undaunted by sporadic, bitter criticism, Judge George S. Heitzler continues to hand down stiff decisions aimed at maintaining respect for law.

The Hamilton County Municipal Court Judge believes in "backing up police as much as possible." He often sentences offenders to maximum penalties.

Some fear him. Others think he has a closed mind.

"The only way you can influence lawbreakers today is to make penalties strict enough to make them realize if they do violate the law, they will suffer the consequences," Heitzler said.

Heitzler tripled bonds of some persons arrested during an anti-way, antidraft demonstration at the Federal Building last December, then charged some with contempt of court when they refused to state their names and ages.

Letters flowed in from all over the country and advertisements in area newspapers denounced his action.

Reaction also was strong to his decisions in riot-connected cases, especially last April, when he raised bonds for curfew violators and meted maximum sentences on other charges.

He also became a target of criticism for citing a juror for contempt of court during a recent riot-connected trial—a somewhat rare move.

Heitzler, 47, said he learned to respect law when he was a child and his father was the influencing factor. He was bent on becoming a lawyer, and after serving in World War II, went through Chase Law School here.

He worked in the Hamilton County prosecutor's office, served as an assistant U. S. attorney and was appointed to the Municipal Court in 1963.

Since taking office, Heitzler has prevailed on City Council to beef up the maximum sentences for both loitering and assault on police.

His decisions concerning riot cases and the city's swift action during rioting are credited with having much to do with keeping trouble down in Cincinnati.

"Social evolution is taking place in the city and the attitudes toward police have changed," Heitzler said. "Respect for police is lacking. They are often abused. They display amazing restraint at times."

Heitzler is trying to reverse the trend. Regarding the criticism, he said it "just goes with the job."

Heitzler noted, "the city of Washington tried releasing all rioters on their own recognizance (without bonds) and suffered six days of rioting. Our city (in April, 1968) was brought under control in one day."

During a disturbance Aug. 16-17, Heitzler convicted a man for disorderly conduct who allegedly was throwing rocks and bottles at police.

He called the arresting police to the bench and instructed them to charge future offenders correctly—with assault on a policeman—and said he would hand down the maximum sentence.

Heitzler said he can be soft and occasionally worries whether he made the correct decision. He is lenient with first offenders and once dropped a traffic fine against a man who came to court on a night when the weather was terrible.

Judges Study

Ohio Court Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About 300 state judges will meet here Wednesday and Thursday to formulate new uniform rules for all Ohio courts.

Called as the first annual Ohio Judicial Conference, the session will involve judges of the state supreme court, courts of appeals, common pleas, municipal and county courts.

The jurists have named a rule advisory committee consisting of 25 judges and 10 attorneys. The meeting stemmed from voter passage last May of the modern courts amendment which assigned administration of all state courts to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Woman Robber Gets Wrist Slap

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A "slap on the wrist" is one way to handle a woman bank robber, a teller at a Flint bank believes.

The teller told police that when she refused a woman's request to give her $100, the woman reached over the counter and began taking bills from the cash drawer.

The teller began hitting the woman's wrist and hand. The bandit then fled, reportedly with about $40. Police later arrested a woman after tracing her by the license number of a car seen near the bank.

Czech Defects To America

TOKYO (AP) — A Czechoslovak scientist who attended the 12th International Congress of Genetics here apparently has defected to the United States.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman declined to officially classify Dr. Jan Klein, 33, as a defector. He said that Klein came to the embassy Thursday and applied for a visa to do research work at the University of Michigan under a grant.

However, other U.S. and Japanese officials said Klein was "obviously a defector." They pointed out that the embassy followed formalities usually taken in the case of defections, including filing a report with the Japanese police.

Japan Airlines said it flew Klein to the United States Friday, two days after the week-long meeting ended.

Klein, who was attached to the Institute of Experimental Biology and Genetics of Czechoslovakia, attended the congress with 12 other Czechoslovak scientists. The Soviet Union invaded their country on Aug. 20, the day the congress opened.

Dick Gregory Still in Jail

CHICAGO (AP) — Civil rights activist Dick Gregory is the only person left in jail of the 583 persons arrested in demonstrations last week during the Democratic National Convention, a spokesman for the Chicago Legal Defense Committee says.

Gregory, who submitted voluntarily to arrest Thursday night when he tried to pass through a police blockade at the end of a line of marchers, has refused bail.

Most of the 583 arrested were charged with disorderly conduct and some with resisting arrest.

Stamp Selling Brings Man Probation

CLEVELAND (AP) — James C. Scott, a helper at the city incinerator, was placed on a one-year probation Tuesday because he went into the stamp selling business for himself.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Robert S. Turoff said Scott, 40, got hold of some 30,500 five-cent stamps that were supposed to be burned when the government switched to six-cent stamps this year.

Turoff estimated that about five million five-cent stamps (worth $2.5 million) were sent to the incinerator to be burned but some dropped unharmed through the gates and out of sight of post office men watching the operation.

Turoff said Scott, of Cleveland had sold 5,000 of the stamps for $200. He said Scott turned over the $200 and another 10,000 stamps.

Postal inspectors found 20,000 more stamps in his home and auto.

Scott is housing chairman, music chairman and band major at an American Legion post and said he sold the stamps to raise money needed to pay off the post's back housing taxes.

U.S. Dist. Judge William K. Thomas placed Scott on probation after he pleaded guilty to converting government property to his own use.

Daley Gets Air Time for Rebuttal

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. has offered Mayor Richard J. Daley a special one-hour program in response to his request for air time to explain "what really happened" during the Democratic National Convention.

But a spokesman for the mayor said Tuesday night Daley termed the NBC news offer "unresponsive" and said the mayor probably would not attend.

Daley said Tuesday he sent letters to the three major television networks requesting one hour of prime time to counteract "the one-sided portrayal of the controversial events that were telecast" during last week's convention.

Reuven Frank, NBC news president, said in New York he invited Daley to "appear for a discussion of these events with a panel of distinguished reporters and editors on a special one-hour edition of 'Meet the Press,' Friday, Sept. 13."

Reacting to the NBC offer, the mayor's office spokesman quoted Daley as having said, "This is not what I requested. There is no need for a panel of reporters."

Frank said, in extending the offer, that he could not accept

Daley's description of NBC telecasts as a "one-sided portrayal."

The other networks, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co., did not reply immediately to Daley's request.

Daley announced his request during a three-minute news conference Tuesday in which he read a statement and then left immediately, refusing to answer newsmen's questions.

The statement said in part: "... Under all principles of fairness, the background and planning for the purpose of disrupting the city and the national convention, the tactics used by the demonstrators, the biographies of the organizers and leaders, the role of the law enforcement agencies and the grave implications of these events, to the cities of America, which were not portrayed during the convention coverage, should be presented to the American public."

The mayor also said he had named a committee to investigate the violent confrontations between police and young peace demonstrators which resulted in 500 arrests and injuries to many persons, including 24 newsmen and 152 policemen.

An aide to Daley said the committee includes James B. Conlisk Jr., police superintendent; Robert Quinn, fire commissioner, and members of the Chicago Corporation Counsel's office and the Department of Health.

In another development, Thomas Foran, U.S. district attorney, announced a federal grand jury session would be extended until the FBI completes a study of the conduct of police and demonstrators and the beating of newsmen.

Foran said if the FBI report, ordered by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, is comprehensive enough, the grand jury's investigative powers will not be required.

Turoff estimated that about five million five-cent stamps (worth $2.5 million) were sent to the incinerator to be burned but some dropped unharmed through the gates and out of sight of post office men watching the operation.

Turoff said Scott, of Cleveland had sold 5,000 of the stamps for $200. He said Scott turned over the $200 and another 10,000 stamps.

Postal inspectors found 20,000 more stamps in his home and auto.

Scott is housing chairman, music chairman and band major at an American Legion post and said he sold the stamps to raise money needed to pay off the post's back housing taxes.

U.S. Dist. Judge William K. Thomas placed Scott on probation after he pleaded guilty to converting government property to his own use.

Daley Gets Air Time for Rebuttal

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. has offered Mayor Richard J. Daley a special one-hour program in response to his request for air time to explain "what really happened" during the Democratic National Convention.

But a spokesman for the mayor said Tuesday night Daley termed the NBC news offer "unresponsive" and said the mayor probably would not attend.

Daley said Tuesday he sent letters to the three major television networks requesting one hour of prime time to counteract "the one-sided portrayal of the controversial events that were telecast" during last week's convention.

Reuven Frank, NBC news president, said in New York he invited Daley to "appear for a discussion of these events with a panel of distinguished reporters and editors on a special one-hour edition of 'Meet the Press,' Friday, Sept. 13."

Reacting to the NBC offer, the mayor's office spokesman quoted Daley as having said, "This is not what I requested. There is no need for a panel of reporters."

Frank said, in extending the offer, that he could not accept

Daley's description of NBC telecasts as a "one-sided portrayal."

The other networks, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co., did not reply immediately to Daley's request.

Daley announced his request during a three-minute news conference Tuesday in which he read a statement and then left immediately, refusing to answer newsmen's questions.

The statement said in part: "Under all principles of fairness, the background and planning for the purpose of disrupting the city and the national convention, the tactics used by the demonstrators, the biographies of the organizers and leaders, the role of the law enforcement agencies and the grave implications of these events, to the cities of America, which were not portrayed during the convention coverage, should be presented to the American public."

The mayor also said he had named a committee to investigate the violent confrontations between police and young peace demonstrators which resulted in 500 arrests and injuries to many persons, including 24 newsmen and 152 policemen.

An aide to Daley said the committee includes James B. Conlisk Jr., police superintendent; Robert Quinn, fire commissioner, and members of the Chicago Corporation Counsel's office and the Department of Health.

In another development, Thomas Foran, U.S. district attorney, announced a federal grand jury session would be extended until the FBI completes a study of the conduct of police and demonstrators and the beating of newsmen.

Foran said if the FBI report, ordered by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, is comprehensive enough, the grand jury's investigative powers will not be required.

40 States To Receive Federal Riot Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly $4 million in federal funds, earmarked for riot control or prevention, will be distributed among 40 states, the Justice Department announced Tuesday.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said the funds, available under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, will pay up to three-fourths of the cost of a wide range of projects aimed at controlling civil disorders in many of the nation's cities.

The funds are specifically earmarked for "programs and projects dealing with the prevention, detection and control of riots and other civil disorders" and were requested by the individual states in mid-August.

Each of the 40 states, together with the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, requested all—or in some cases nearly all—of the maximum amounts available under the act, Clark said.

Figured on a population basis, the allocations from the $3.9 million total ranged from $6,800 for Wyoming to $44,900 for California.

Clark said the few states

Congress Faces Heavy Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — With one ear tuned to the presidential candidates and the other to the voters back home, congressmen return Wednesday to face some hot political topics and the possibility of a long session.

Thorniest matters before the Congress are stricter gun controls and President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

The nomination is still in the Senate Judiciary Committee and it's anybody's guess when—and if—it will reach the floor.

Warren himself said two weeks ago in a speech that he expects to be around to open the court's fall session next month. If Republicans carry through with a threat to filibuster, Warren may have to keep his pledge to President Johnson to stay on indefinitely.

Johnson has nominated federal Judge Homer Thornberry to fill the vacancy that would be created by elevating Fortas from associate justice to chief justice.

The Judiciary committee, however, has shelved action on Thornberry until the Senate either confirms or denies Fortas.

Two bills that would ban the mail order sales of rifles and shotguns reached the Senate just before Congress adjourned for the national political conventions Aug. 2. One was reported out of the Senate Judiciary Committee and the other came over from the House.

Backers of even stricter legislation have threatened to battle on the floor for inclusion of registration and licensing provisions which were soundly defeated by the House and by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

A third measure that could erupt into controversy is the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, still in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Since the Russians invaded Czechoslovakia, there have been suggestions that Senate ratification be put off for a year.

Foreign aid, already battered down to a million dollars less than President Johnson asked, may run into some additional flak because it is a controversial issue that becomes even more so in an election season. A bill authorizing $1.96 million in foreign aid for the current fiscal year is now before House-Senate conferees. The authorization is likely to survive but appropriations could be much lower.

The Senate returns to face an appropriations bill for the Health, Education and Welfare and Labor departments as its immediate order of business. The House has four relatively minor bills on the docket for this holiday week.

Clark said the few states which did not apply for funds before the Aug. 26 deadline may still do so after submitting detailed law enforcement proposals aimed at control of civil disorders.

Those states which will shortly receive federal grants plan to use them for such projects as police-community relations programs, protective equipment for personnel, chemical supplies, small arms and ammunition, communications equipment and photo and video equipment.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 41 present at the Five Points Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. The worship service was led by Richard Redman due to the absence of our minister, Rev. Maurer who was called home by the death of his step-mother, Mrs. Glenn Maurer. The sympathy of this community is extended to Rev. Maurer and family.

The WSCS will meet at the church Wednesday evening

Sept. 4 at 8 p.m. The Sunday School Picnic will be held next Sunday, Sept. 8, in the church basement immediately following worship services and all members and former members are urged to pack their picnic lunch and attend Sunday School and church services and spend the day at church.

The Youth Fellowship will have their first meeting at 7 p.m. next Sunday evening at the church. There will be a wiener roast preceding the meeting and all young people of Junior and Senior High School are invited. Mr. and Mrs. David Konright, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dick and Mr. and Mrs. Don Streitenberger will be leaders of the Youth group.

Mrs. Etta Neff is now a patient in the Monterey Nursing Home in Grove City. She would appreciate cards of cheer.

Mr. Shirley Anderson is a medical patient in Madison County Hospital, London.

Mr. and Mrs. William Long and son Kevin of Chicago, Ill., were callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss Friday afternoon. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Long and family. They were enroute home from a vacation trip to Niagara Falls and Washington D.C. and called on relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dawson of Waverly were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and Miss Laura Long and Mrs. Bessie Hinton of Darbyville were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Furniss in Clarksburg.

Mr. Charles Massie of Pan coastburg was the Tuesday afternoon guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty. Mr. Ronnie Rivers was their Thursday afternoon guest and Mrs. Edgar Fultz and Pamela Fultz was their Friday evening guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore and sons were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Davis and family at their summer cottage on Indian Lake.

Mr. Richard Dickason of Chillicothe was the Wednesday guest of Mr. Charles Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Twydel of Detroit, Mich., spent several days last week with Mr. Parks.

Mr. Frank Watkins of Chillicothe and Edgar, Darwin and Randy Fultz were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dickason of Chillicothe were Friday guests of Mr. Charles Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson of Circleville were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Shirley Anderson.

Mrs. Ray Gallicchio and daughter Angela Mae and son Paul Richard of Sarasota, Florida visited the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Festus Hill. On Tuesday evening they all were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Brown of near Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parker and daughters Peggy and Patty of Worthington were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Anderson.

Mr. Stant Leach of Grove

City was the Sunday afternoon guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sheets.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe and sons Roger and Robin of near Washington C.H. were Labor Day evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss. The occasion celebrated Mr. and Mrs. Furniss' forty-fourth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Sheets and son Mickey of Westerville were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Turney Sheets and Mickey remained to attend the State Fair with his grandparents on Monday.

Mrs. Mary Bunker of Springfield was the Sunday afternoon guest of Mrs. Shirley Anderson.

Danny and Debbie Dick of Circleville were Sunday afternoon guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Dick.

Hippies Scrawl on HHH's Walls

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's Southern California campaign manager says he arrived at the headquarters to find 20 hippies scrawling obscenities on walls and clogging drains.

Merchant Dies

TORONTO (AP) — Alan Bruce Munro, 64, vice president and managing director of F. W. Woolworth Co. Ltd., died Tuesday while working at his office. He also served on the board of the parent U.S. company.

Joseph Cerrell told police that 20 long-haired youths who invaded the Humphrey campaign offices finally left, joining about 80 others picketing outside. Lavatories were clogged with leaflets from such groups as the Youth Commission of the Communist party of Southern California, Cerrell said after the incident Tuesday. "They defaced signs with swastikas, wrote filthy remarks about the vice president on the walls and stood in the halls chanting, 'Ho, Ho, Ho Chi Minh,'" Cerrell said.

Soviet Vessels In U.S. Waters

SEATTLE (AP) — A Russian icebreaker bound from Yalta through the Panama Canal to Vladivostok with a barge in tow stopped in uninvited just off Port Orford, Ore., Tuesday. But although the skipper of the 200-foot Yuri Lisianskiy didn't ask permission to enter U.S. waters, the Coast Guard said the visit was okay. Part of the towing gear had broken, and although repairs were made, the Russian skipper wanted to stay in protected waters until 20-knot wind died down. The icebreaker and barge were anchored about one mile south of Port Orford.

Ohio Federal Inmates Get New Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department announced plans Tuesday to establish apprenticeship programs for inmates at the Mansfield Reformatory and Chillicothe Correctional Institute of Ohio. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz said the programs will be patterned after a successful pilot project conducted at the McNeil Island, Wash., federal penitentiary. At Mansfield, an area joint apprenticeship committee has been set up for representatives of the Labor Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, prison officials and area labor and management representatives. The labor department did not give specific arrangements for the Chillicothe project. The McNeil Island apprenticeship program showed, the Labor Department said, that trade groups in the Tacoma area were willing to place the apprentices in jobs or in existing local apprenticeship programs when they were released. SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Lou Gottlieb, former singer with the Limelighters, was sentenced to 15 days in jail Tuesday for failing to clear his Morning Star Ranch of hippies. A Superior Court order had been issued for the clearance following months of complaints by neighbors. He was sentenced for contempt of court and also fined $1,500.

How the Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio: Skies were clear over most of Ohio during the night and at daybreak temperatures were in the 60s. Showers were expected to move northeastward across Ohio today, reaching Lake Erie by late this afternoon or evening. As a cold front moves eastward into Indiana Thursday, showers will continue over Ohio. However, the rainy weather is likely to end Friday with a turn to cooler as the cold front moves on eastward. FORECASTS OHIO — Variable cloudiness with scattered showers and thundershowers tonight and Thursday. Lows tonight mostly in 60s. Continued warm and humid Thursday. Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

'Respected' Lady Is Common Thief

DEAR ABBY: We own a small high grade market in one of the better neighborhoods. Our problem is a very stylish lady of about 50 who patronizes us regularly. We've seen her slip small cans of button mushrooms, caviar, smoked oysters, and similar delicacies into her coat pocket.

She can well afford to pay for the items she steals. We've considered asking her to do her shopping elsewhere, but we haven't the nerve. She is such a respected lady that we can't follow her out of the store and demand that she empty her pockets like the common thief. Perhaps if you print this in your column she'll realize she's not getting away with anything. In the meantime, what is your advice?

UNSIGNED

DEAR UNSIGNED: Unless you want to continue to keep this "respected lady" in button mushrooms, caviar, smoked oysters and similar delicacies, I suggest that you follow her out of the store and demand that she empty her pockets like the common thief that she is. And until you do, she is indeed getting away with plenty.

DEAR ABBY: After 9 years of marriage my wife wants twin beds. I can't understand it and neither can our seven kids. Do you think she's getting tired of me? She says she will sleep better in twin beds. Frankly, if she slept any better, she would be dead. Please tell me how to handle this problem. I like to have her next to me.

ST. LOUIS

DEAR ST. LOUIS: The desire for twin beds is no proof that your wife is "getting tired" of you. Seven kids in nine years may mean she's getting just plain "tired."

DEAR ABBY: There is a local hang-out in our small town where I met a boy from another state. We just rode around and talked and he asked to see me the next night. I liked him so I did. That night he told me he was married and had two kids. I should have told him good-bye right then and there, but I liked him so much, I just couldn't.

Abby, I only intended to have a good time and forget about him, and he said he had the same intentions, but it wasn't that simple for either of us. He says he's in love with me, and I know I love him. I just can't stop seeing him. He says he's thinking about divorcing his wife and marrying me. It's gone beyond the point of turning back. I think about him night and day and I am worrying my poor mother to death—but I can't give him up, even if he is another woman's man. Please help me.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: As long as you keep telling yourself you CAN'T give him up, you won't be able to. Tell yourself you CAN give him up because you

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q: I served in the Australian Navy before coming to the United States. Will I be drafted after I register?

A: Australia is a country certified by the Department of State as being associated with the United States in mutual defense activities. If your service was for at least eighteen months with the Australian Navy, contact your country's diplomatic mission in Washington, D.C., or the nearest consular office of your country. The diplomatic or consular office, after verifying your military service, will send a certificate evidencing your service directly to your local board. In this way, you establish your eligibility for a Class IV-A classification as a registrant who has completed service.

Q: Will you please tell me who decides on how many men are to be drafted?

A: This comes from the Department of Defense. When the decision is made, the Secretary of Defense sends to the Director of Selective Service a call for a specified number of men required for induction into the Armed Forces in a particular month.

Q: How did my State Director of Selective Service get his job?

A: Your State Director of Selective Service was recommended for that position by the Governor of your state and appointed by the President.

Bus Fight Hits Geneva

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Angry parents refused to send their children to school Tuesday because the Geneva School Board had canceled the bus service for junior and senior high pupils. Some 500 children from rural areas missed classes but officials said the majority of the system's 3,324 pupils attended.

The bus service was curtailed when a 3.3-mill levy submitted last May and June was defeated. The school board said it now faces a $50,000 deficit at the end of the year.

Some of the pupils travel as much as 20 miles a day to school and the parents claim the board is being vindictive because of the levy defeats.

School Supt. Kenneth H. Jones said the board will meet Monday night to consider the situation and he would recommend resubmitting the levy Nov. 5.

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Portal-to-portal bus service—a kind that picks you up at the front door and puts you off at the building entrance nearest your job—goes into operation in this industrial city of 196,940 on Sept. 9.

Outside these buses look like any other city bus, but inside there's a big difference. Simulated leather seats are contoured, there's stereo music, and interior colors are coordinated. Two pairs of twin seats face each other—for the card players.

Occasionally there'll be a couple of "bus bunnies" aboard, serving doughnuts and coffee and requesting suggestions for improvement.

The buses represent an experiment in which private, city and federal agencies are cooperating in the hope of luring back to public transportation those who now clutter the expressways and parking lots with personally driven cars. It is destined to run three years.

Another aim, of course, is to wipe out deficits which now plague municipal transportation systems over much of the country. Flint lost $169,319 in 1962, up from $75,716 the previous year.

Financial underwriters of the three-year experiment are the Mott Foundation of Flint, the Flint Transportation Authority, City of Flint and the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Cooperators include the American Academy of Transportation, a nonprofit transportation research agency of Anne Arbor, Mich., and General Motors Corp., which might lose so the two-car families, but, of course, makes the $30,000 buses.

From the start, when 13 of the projected 26 buses go into operations, on-time pickup and delivery is guaranteed, along with a seat. In case of a bus breakdown, a fleet of taxicabs will take over if another bus can't make it on time.

Also guaranteed is pickup within half a block of home, if not at the front door, and a discharge at the plant or office door nearest one's job station.

For this so-called maxiservice a monthly fee ranging from $9 to $18 is being charged, the amount dependent upon distance traveled.

Obvious savings to users of the new maxiservice buses in preference to private cars would be gasoline, oil, auto insurance, depreciation on the family car, traffic jam nerves and shoe leather.

Monthly subscriptions are necessary to get the maxiservice, and they're being solicited at booths in factories, by direct mail and through telephone calls.

The program will begin with 13 buses making runs to ski Flint General Motors Corp. plants, where GM employs some 70,000 persons. The other 13 are to be added in October and November.

The buses are regular 45-passenger vehicles from which two double seats have been removed, to permit the facing of two pairs. This gives each a 41-passenger capacity.

To be a success in the view of sponsors the experiment will have to pay its own way eventually and return to the Flint Transportation Authority the $70,000 annually it is expected to drain off the regular municipal bus system.

Dear Abby: 'Respected' Lady Is Common Thief

DEAR ABBY: We own a small high grade market in one of the better neighborhoods. Our problem is a very stylish lady of about 50 who patronizes us regularly. We've seen her slip small cans of button mushrooms, caviar, smoked oysters, and similar delicacies into her coat pocket.

She can well afford to pay for the items she steals. We've considered asking her to do her shopping elsewhere, but we haven't the nerve. She is such a respected lady that we can't follow her out of the store and demand that she empty her pockets like the common thief that she is. And until you do, she is indeed getting away with plenty.

DEAR ABBY: After 9 years of marriage my wife wants twin beds. I can't understand it and neither can our seven kids. Do you think she's getting tired of me? She says she will sleep better in twin beds. Frankly, if she slept any better, she would be dead. Please tell me how to handle this problem. I like to have her next to me.

ST. LOUIS

DEAR ST. LOUIS: The desire for twin beds is no proof that your wife is "getting tired" of you. Seven kids in nine years may mean she's getting just plain "tired."

DEAR ABBY: There is a local hang-out in our small town where I met a boy from another state. We just rode around and talked and he asked to see me the next night. I liked him so I did. That night he told me he was married and had two kids. I should have told him good-bye right then and there, but I liked him so much, I just couldn't.

Abby, I only intended to have a good time and forget about him, and he said he had the same intentions, but it wasn't that simple for either of us. He says he's in love with me, and I know I love him. I just can't stop seeing him. He says he's thinking about divorcing his wife and marrying me. It's gone beyond the point of turning back. I think about him night and day and I am worrying my poor mother to death—but I can't give him up, even if he is another woman's man. Please help me.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: As long as you keep telling yourself you CAN'T give him up, you won't be able to. Tell yourself you CAN give him up because you must. Wipe the stardust out of your eyes, little girl. If he should divorce his wife and marry you, what would you have? A guy who romances another girl when his wife is out of sight. If that's your idea of a good husband, you have a lot to learn.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOTTIE: Everyone has his "ups and downs." When you are "up" make it a point to help someone who is "down." It will lift you to even loftier heights, and surely help the one you've lifted.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: Unless you want to continue to keep this "respected lady" in button mushrooms, caviar, smoked oysters and similar delicacies, I suggest that you follow her out of the store and demand that she empty her pockets like the common thief that she is. And until you do, she is indeed getting away with plenty.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q: I served in the Australian Navy before coming to the United States. Will I be drafted after I register?

A: Australia is a country certified by the Department of State as being associated with the United States in mutual defense activities. If your service was for at least eighteen months with the Australian Navy, contact your country's diplomatic mission in Washington, D.C., or the nearest consular office of your country. The diplomatic or consular office, after verifying your military service, will send a certificate evidencing your service directly to your local board. In this way, you establish your eligibility for a Class IV-A classification as a registrant who has completed service.

Q: Will you please tell me who decides on how many men are to be drafted?

A: This comes from the Department of Defense. When the decision is made, the Secretary of Defense sends to the Director of Selective Service a call for a specified number of men required for induction into the Armed Forces in a particular month.

Q: How did my State Director of Selective Service get his job?

A: Your State Director of Selective Service was recommended for that position by the Governor of your state and appointed by the President.

Bus Fight Hits Geneva

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Angry parents refused to send their children to school Tuesday because the Geneva School Board had canceled the bus service for junior and senior high pupils.

Some 500 children from rural areas missed classes but officials said the majority of the system's 3,324 pupils attended.

The bus service was curtailed when a 3.3-mill levy submitted last May and June was defeated. The school board said it now faces a $50,000 deficit at the end of the year.

Some of the pupils travel as much as 20 miles a day to school and the parents claim the board is being vindictive because of the levy defeat.

School Supt. Kenneth H. Jones said the board will meet Monday night to consider the situation and he would recommend resubmitting the levy Nov. 5.

Denny Williams To Unveil Fighting Tigers of '68 Friday

Circleville Starts Season At Grove City

New head football coach Denny Williams unveils his version of the fighting Tigers of Circleville Friday at Grove City.

The coaching staff is enthusiastic about this year's squad of youngsters, most of whom saw the bulk of their action a year ago in reserve roles.

Danny Smith, who filled in for Steve Nade in 1967, has the coaches nod at left halfback while Frankie Carter and Mike Henderson are vying for the right half.

Will Bost, who showed a great deal of promise in practice, will be sidelined for the opening game with a muscle tear. The transfer student from Amanda-Clarecreek has been battling Eddie Wells for the starting fullback assignment.

He may be ready by the Teays Valley game, but will not even suit-up for the tilt with the Grove City Greyhounds.

Steve Barthelmas is the center for the Tigers. He will be flanked by guards Mark Ralston and Jim Samuel, if the latter has recovered from a stubbed toe he sustained at the Band Preview last Friday.

Wayne Garrison and Don Cordle will start at tackles. Both are from the Yellowbud area, and both gave last year's team excellent depth at the position.

Phil Diehl, who played end last year, and Dick Walters, sometimes a back last year, will be this year's ends.

The two are capable receivers, and Circleville fans can expect to see more passing this season than last.

ON defense, Garrison and Cordle will be the tackles, Barthelmas and Wells the ends. Linebackers are Diehl, Samuels or Ralston, and Steve Olney. Defensive halfbacks will be Henderson and Walters. Safeties are Sims and Carter or Smith.

Sharing the extra point kicking chores will be Smith and Walters. Williams has not yet decided which of the two will win the job.

The Tigers have not worked a great deal on kickoffs yet, so the staff does not yet know who will be booting the ball on the kickoffs.

Walters appears to be the team's punter this season.

The Tigers will be going into Friday's game "cold" when it comes to knowledge of the opposition.

"ALL we have to go on so far are last year's films and the program," Williams said. "One of the Columbus papers said they had 23 lettermen and 14 regular returning. But according to the program, they graduated 14 seniors."

Circleville has not been able to scout the Greyhounds in any of their pre season scrimmages.

Although Williams has never seen Grove City, he has a veteran staff of assistants, all of whom have had plenty of opportunity to view the Greyhounds in opening games recently.

Dick Fisher, Jim Lint and Brent Bell are back on the staff, as well as Danny Fout, the freshman mentor.

Tractor Pullers Wind Up Season at World Meet

Central Ohio Tractor Puller's Assn. is winding up another year as State Fair competition and the Labor Day pull have been completed.

The last event of 1968 is the 14th annual world champion tractor pulling class at the Farm Power Show, Gettinger Farm Incorporated, Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 20-22.

Dick McPherson won the 9,500-pound class pull. Wayne Atwood was sixth and Mike Rittinger was tenth. Larry Schlosser was sixth in the 12,000-pound class.

IN the Labor Day pull Sunday and Monday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Herb Miller won the 4,500-pound class. Chuck Plum was second, Bill Smith was third, John Strawser was fourth and Ronnie Majors was fifth. There were 21 entries in the class.

The 10,000-pound class had 21 entries and was won by Larry Schlosser. Tom Graham was second. Larry Schlosser was third, Dave Harbage was fourth and Dick McPherson was fifth. Mike Rittinger teamed up with his dad Wheeler to take the top spot in the 4,500-pound double tree event. George and Herb Miller were second, Steve Rittinger and Ron Furniss were third, Eddie Heath and Steve Rittinger were fourth and John Strawser and Ron Furniss were fifth. Five teams were entered.

Dick McPherson won the 6,500-pound class which had 31 entries. Steve Rittinger was second, Mike Rittinger was third, Bruce Liston was fourth and Larry Schlosser was fifth. Mike and Wheeler Rittinger again teamed up on 6,500-pound tractors to win the double tree event of 18 entries. Ron Furniss and Dick McPherson were second, Dave McKirgan and Pat Jones were third, Don Quillan and Russ McFarland were fourth and Steve Rittinger and Bill Smith were fifth.

The 12,000-pound class had eight entries and was won by Larry Schlosser. Dick McPherson was second, Dave Harbage was third, Ron Furniss was fourth and Larry Schlosser was fifth.

Otterbein Looks Toward Better Grid Season in '68

WESTERVILLE — "Although we've had a 2-7 record each of the past two seasons, I definitely feel we improved as a football team last year, and with better team spirit and unity, we should continue to improve this year."

This is the way Otterbein Coach Larry Lintner evaluated the '68 campaign prior to the start of his third year as head coach at his alma mater. He also was quick to add that continued improvement should reflect in the win-loss column.

Rick Rawlins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rawlins, Route 1, has been tabbed as a possible starting tackle for the Cardinals. The 6-3, 235 pound Logan Elm High School grad could see action both on defense and offense.

In high school, he played end for the Braves, lettering three years.

Perhaps the biggest key to the hopes of Lintner for a successful season in '68 is held jointly by 11 seniors on the team (all lettermen within a total list of 27). All the seniors have been starters in the past and should continue to see plenty of action this year.

Leading this crew will be tri-captains Ron Balconi, Dan Dent and Jeff Upp. A three-year regular as a linebacker, the 5-9, 190 Balconi from Sandusky once again should prove a demon to enemy ball carriers as he helps lead the defensive unit.

Working along side of Balconi on the defensive platoon will be middle guard Dan Dent, 6-0, 200 from Columbus West. Dent was tabbed Most Improved Player on last year's team as he anchored the center of the Cards' defensive line.

The third tri-captain for '68 will be fullback Jeff Upp, 5-10, 190 from Lancaster. A halfback for three years, Upp also has good power and if he can remain injury free could well fill the fullback spot left vacant by the graduated Paul Reimer. Last year's backup fullback, soph Steve Casto, is being switched to center.

Dave Widder, who quarterbacked the Cards through most of '67 and set a bundle of passing records, has graduated. However, senior Fritz Caudle (6-0, 175) who started during his freshman and sophomore years is back and should be free of a knee injury which bothered him after last year's Heidelberg game.

Caudle could be pushed in the job of running Lintner's pro-I attack by soph Norm Lukey, one of four Canadians on the squad. Lukey hails from Toronto.

Also back seeking his fourth letter is tailback Steve Deringer (6-0, 190) who was the Cards' leading ground gainer last season (101 carries for 333 yards and a 3.3 average) and should be even better in '68. Deringer also grabbed 23 passes for 123 yards last year and had a 35.5 yards punting average.

Three experienced hands will be vying for the flanker spot. Leading the pack will be junior Doug Shackelford (5-11, 188). Shackelford grabbed 10 passes for 157 yards in '67 but was saddled with injuries much of the year. Others in the running are sophs Tom Gilmore and Pete Parker.

Pre-season picks along the offensive line show record shattering Gary Moore back at split end. The glue-fingered, 6-2, 185 senior from Dayton (Wayne) established a new school mark for pass receptions last year with 31 good for 347 yards. Soph Ken Jackson should provide good back up.

Tight end, a question mark since last year's regular and Most Valuable Freshman, Hollis Haff, has transferred to West Virginia U. Leading the list of returnees is sophomore Barry Walton (6-2, 185).

Filling out the offensive line should be junior Rich Rawlins (6-3, 235), and soph Lou Lord (6-3, 230) at tackles; senior Dan Neese (5-9, 210) and junior Deems Leasure (6-0, 196) at guards; and junior Steve Laek (6-2, 235) at center. All but Lord were regulars last year.

On defense the early outlook shows a pair of sophs, Keith Wakefield (5-10, 185) and Mike Hayward (6-2, 225; at end; Rawlins (who may go both ways) and senior J. D. Wilson (5-11, 220) a three-year starter at tackle.

The graduation of Bill Baker leaves a big hole to fill at one line-backer. Tri-Captain Ron Balconi should fill one spot, but he is the only veteran with experience. Rest of the returning upperclassmen is soph Ed Haffey (5-10, 210).

Four veterans are on hand to man the corner back and safety positions but will be pushed by a good crop of freshmen. The vets are seniors Dale Barr (5-8, 165) at corner back, and senior Dick Augspurger (6-3, 195), Brian Bates (5-10, 165) and soph Craig Weaver (5-8, 175) at the safety posts.

Special Races Planned at Atomic Track

CHILLICOTHE — Two special races have been added to wind up the year's schedule at Atomic Speedway.

An unprecedented third super-special has been approved by the Chillicothe Stock Car Racing Association because of the success of the earlier third annual Atomic 100 and the fifth yearly Buckeye 100.

The Tri-State Invitational — the season finale for the super-modifieds — will be held Sept. 20, with time trials at 7 p.m. and racing to start at 8 p.m. The special race has been rain dated for the two succeeding.

The guaranteed purse will be the same as the earlier specials with a $3,350 total and $1,000 for the winner of the 100-lap feature. Second place will pay $500, third $300, fourth $200 and fifth $150.

Junior Smalley of Waverly was the winner of the year's Atomic and Larry (Boom Boom) Cannon of Danville, Ill., took the Buckeye.

The season will close Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28, with the hobby stocks championship. Time trials will be at 1 p.m. and racing at 2.

Both classes will take part in the regular intervening Saturday night programs Sept. 7 and 14.

Girl's Bowling Proves Sticky

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Schoolgirl Jean Highcock took careful aim, swung the ball—and almost followed it down the 10-pin bowling alley.

For Jean's fingers were firmly stuck in the ball's grip-holes. The bowling alley manager tried unsuccessfully to free her fingers, then summoned the fire brigade. They failed, too, and called the police.

Jean finally was taken to hospital in an ambulance, holding her arm in the air with the ball still tightly stuck.

Jean sat patiently while hospital doctors cut the ball away with saws.

"I must have looked really silly," Jean said.

'Watch Out for Westfall' Says Coach Katterhenrick

"If we don't get any injuries, watch out!"

That is the comment of Dave Katterhenrick, Westfall head football coach, anticipating the coming season which opens Friday for Westfall against Fairfield School for Boys.

Last year the two teams met in the opener and fought to a 20-20 deadlock. But this season the Mustangs are riding high due to a scrimmage upset over South Central Ohio power Miami Trace.

The two teams scrimmaged Saturday and the Westfall varsity outscored the Panthers, four TDs to three. The reserves gave up two scores in the last part of the game.

COACH Katterhenrick said the Mustangs did very well in the scrimmage but the defense needs polishing.

John Furniss and Ken Parsons ran well against the Trace defense which held Scioto Valley Conference contender Union to minus yardage rushing in an earlier scrimmage.

On defense the coach singled out his pair of 240-pound tackles, Martin Howard and Tim Dewey, and his defensive end, Tony Lightle.

The Mustangs scored four times in the scrimmage, once on a screen pass that covered 60 yards, once on a 50-yard pass play and twice on sustained drives.

One of the TDs given up by Westfall was on an intercepted pass.

Cleveland Pounds Angels, 7-2; Angels Drop to 8th

ANAHEIM (AP)—The Indians keep climbing as the Angels keep sinking.

Cleveland maintained its pursuit of the third place Boston Red Sox Tuesday night with a 7-2 pounding of California. The defeat dropped the Angels further into eighth place in the American League.

The Indians will try for a sweep of the three-game series tonight, sending ace right-hander Louis Tiant, 18 - 9 against rookie right-hander Bill Harrelson, 1-4.

In the tightly knotted center of the league only 4½ games separate the third place Red Sox, 13 games off the pace and the New York Yankees and Oakland Athletics, tied for fifth. Cleveland is but 1½ games behind Boston.

The Indians battered Jim McGlothlin, Marty Pattin and Sam Ellis for 13 hits. Veteran outfielders Russ Snyder and Lee Maye led the way. Snyder drove in three runs with a single and his third homer of the year.

That made it an easy victory for Sam McDowell, 14-11, though the hard-throwing left-hander needed eighth-inning relief help from Vincente Romo.

The Indians pinned the loss on right-hander McGlothlin, 10-13, who surrendered four runs and nine hits before being driven from the mound in the seventh inning. Ellis was shelled for the final three runs in the ninth.

Jose Cardenal, the former Angel center fielder, contributed two singles to the winning cause and drove in a run. Second baseman Vern Fuller cracked a single, double and triple.

McDowell lost a shutout in the fourth inning when Jim Fregosi, Bubba Morton and Bobby Knoop singled.

McDowell was leading, 4-1, when Manager Alvin Dark lifted him in the eighth inning following a two-out double by Fregosi. Rick Reichardt greeted Romo with a run-scoring single and pinch-hitter Roger Repoz followed with a hit. But Romo choked off the rally by getting Knoop to ground into a forceout.

Denny Williams To Unveil Fighting Tigers of '68 Friday

Circleville Starts Season At Grove City

New head football coach Denny Williams unveils his version of the fighting Tigers of Circleville Friday at Grove City.

The coaching staff is enthusiastic about this year's squad of youngsters, most of whom saw the bulk of their action a year ago in reserve roles.

Danny Smith, who filled in for Steve Dade in 1967, has the coaches nod at left halfback while Frankie Carter and Mike Henderson are vying for the right half.

Will Bost, who showed a great deal of promise in practice, will be sidelined for the opening game with a muscle tear. The transfer student from Amanda-Clearcreek has been battling Eddie Wells for the starting fullback assignment.

He may be ready by the Teays Valley game, but will not even suit-up for the tilt with the Grove City Greyhounds.

Steve Barthelmas is the center for the Tigers. He will be flanked by guards Mark Ralston and Jim Samuel, if the latter has recovered from a stubbed toe he sustained at the Band Preview last Friday.

Wayne Garrison and Don Cordie will start at tackles. Both are from the Yellowbud area, and both gave last year's team excellent depth at the position.

Phil Diehl, who played end last year, and Dick Walters, sometimes a back last year, will be this year's ends.

The two are capable receivers, and Circleville fans can expect to see more passing this season than last.

ON defense, Garrison and Cordie will be the tackles. Barthelmas and Wells the ends. Linebackers are Diehl, Samuels or Ralston, and Steve Olney. Defensive halfbacks will be Henderson and Walters. Safeties are Sims and Carter or Smith.

Sharing the extra point kicking chores will be Smith and Walters. Williams has not yet decided which of the two will win the job.

The Tigers have not worked a great deal on kickoffs yet, so the staff does not yet know who will be booting the ball on the kickoffs.

Walters appears to be the team's punter this season.

The Tigers will be going into Friday's game "cold" when it comes to knowledge of the opposition.

"All we have to go on so far are last year's films and the program," Williams said.

"One of the Columbus papers said they had 23 lettermen and 14 regular returning. But according to the program, they graduated 14 seniors."

Circleville has not been able to scout the Greyhounds in any of their pre season scrimmages.

Although Williams has never seen Grove City, he has a veteran staff of assistants, all of whom have had plenty of opportunity to view the Greyhounds in opening games recently.

Dick Fisher, Jim Lint and Brent Bell are back on the staff, as well as Danny Fout, the freshman mentor.

Tractor Pullers Wind Up Season at World Meet

Central Ohio Tractor Puller's Assn. is winding up another year as State Fair competition and the Labor Day pull have been completed.

The last event of 1968 is the 14th annual world champion tractor pulling class at the Farm Power Show, Gettinger Farm Incorporated, Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 20-22.

Herb Miller placed sixth and Mike Rittinger seventh in the 4500-pound class pull at the Ohio State Fair Aug. 30 and 31. In the 7500-pound class Steve Rittinger was fourth.

Dick McPherson won the 9500-pound class pull, Wayne Atwood was sixth and Mike Rittinger was tenth. Larry Schlosser was sixth in the 12,000-pound class.

IN the Labor Day pull Sunday and Monday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Herb Miller won the 4500-pound class. Chuck Plum was second, Bill Smith was third, John Strawser was fourth and Ronnie Majors was fifth. There were 21 entries in the class.

The 10,000-pound class had 21 entries and was won by Larry Schlosser. Tom Graham was second, Larry Schlosser was third, Dave Harbage was fourth and Dick McPherson was fifth. Mike Rittinger teamed up with his dad Wheeler to take the top spot in the 4500-pound double tree event. George and Herb Miller were second, Steve Rittinger and Ron Furniss were third, Eddie Heath and Steve Rittinger were fourth and John Strawser and Ron Furniss were fifth. Five teams were entered.

Dick McPherson won the 6500-pound class which had 31 entries. Steve Rittinger was second, Mike Rittinger was third, Bruce Liston was fourth and Larry Schlosser was fifth. Mike and Wheeler Rittinger again teamed up on 6,500-pound tractors to win the double tree event of 18 entries. Ron Furniss and Dick McPherson were second, Dave McKirgan and Pat Jones were third, Don Quillan and Russ McFarland were fourth and Steve Rittinger and Bill Smith were fifth.

The 12,000-pound class had eight entries and was won by Larry Schlosser. Dick McPherson was second, Dave Harbage was third, Ron Furniss was fourth and Larry Schlosser was fifth.

Otterbein Looks Toward Better Grid Season in '68

WESTERVILLE — "Although we've had a 2-7 record each of the past two seasons, I definitely feel we improved as a football team last year, and with better team spirit and unity, we should continue to improve this year."

This is the way Otterbein Coach Larry Lintner evaluated the '68 campaign prior to the start of his third year as head coach at his alma mater. He also was quick to add that continued improvement should reflect in the won-loss column.

Rick Rawlins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rawlins, Route 1, has been tabbed as a possible starting tackle for the Cardinals. The 6-3, 235 pound Logan Elm High School grad could see action both on defense and offense.

In high school, he played end for the Braves, lettering three years.

Perhaps the biggest key to the hopes of Lintner for a successful season in '68 is held jointly by 11 seniors on the team (all lettermen within a total list of 27). All the seniors have been starters in the past and should continue to see plenty of action this year.

Leading this crew will be tri-captains Ron Balconi, Dan Dent and Jeff Upp. A three-year regular as a linebacker, the 5-9, 190 Balconi from Sandusky once again should prove a demon to enemy ball carriers as he helps lead the defensive unit.

Working along side of Balconi on the defensive platoon will be middle guard Dan Dent, 6-0, 200 from Columbus West. Dent was tabbed Most Improved Player on last year's team as he anchored the center of the Cards' defensive line.

Grid Forecasters Give Oilers, Oakland AFL Division Titles

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As the New York Jets trudged out of the locker room at their training camp recently, a fan studied them for a moment, then said, "They look like the Green Bay Packers."

Unfortunately for the Jets, they don't look like the Packers on the field.

In fact, they might not even look like the Houston Oilers.

That's why the Oilers should repeat as Eastern Division champions and go into the American Football League title game against the Oakland Raiders.

That would be a repeat of last year's title contest, and in this opinion, the outcome will be repeated, too—the Raiders winning and going into the Super Bowl for another crack at the National League.

Here's how the standings could look at the end of the season:

East	West
1. Houston	1. Oakland
2. New York	2. Kansas City
3. Buffalo	3. San Diego
4. Miami	4. Denver
5. Boston	5. Cincinnati

Because they have Joe Namath, the Jets for the past couple of years have been considered a likely candidate for the title game. But after good starts each time, the Jets have failed to make it.

This year again they have to be given a good chance to win in the East, but from this view

Pro Gridders, Are Given Pink Slips

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Youth must be served, and none know it better than the batch of pro football veterans who got their walking papers Tuesday.

Among the jobless were Buffalo fullback Wray Carlton, the American Football League club's all-time rushing leader, and Bob Scarpito of Denver, the AFL's leading punter the past two seasons.

Others who got the pink slip included Washington defensive back Jimmy Burston, a six-year veteran of the National League for whom the Redskins traded during the off-season; offensive guard Bookie Bolm of the New York Giants, another six-year man who played on two Eastern Conference championship teams, and Baltimore defensive back Jimmy Welch, who had survived eight campaigns.

A couple of big-name youngsters also got the ax. Washington asked waivers on fullback Ray McDonald, the team's No. 1 draft choice a year ago. And Boston gave up on quarterback Don Trull, a three-year veteran acquired from Houston in an effort to shore up the Patriots' offense.

That handed the signal-calling job to Mike Taliaferro, obtained from the New York Jets several weeks ago for Babe Parilli, and rookie Tom Sherman, a free agent from Penn State.

McDonald, a 245-pound bruiser from Idaho, was philosophical about his release, although he averaged 4.3 yards in 52 carries last season despite missing six games because of injuries.

"I hope no other NFL team puts in a claim for me," he said. "I want to make the Redskins' squad. I know I can play football, but I need more experience."

If no one claims him, McDonald will play with the Virginia Sailors of the Atlantic Coast League.

Carlton and Scarpito also said they will try to hook on with other clubs. Carlton, 31, joined Buffalo when the AFL was born in 1960 and gained 3,368 yards over the years.

Scarpito, who also has played split end on occasion, set an AFL record of 45.8 yards per punt in 1966 and averaged 44.9 last year, including a 73-yarder, longest in AFL history.

With the AFL getting underway this weekend, Boston learned that fullback Jim Nance has only a 50-50 chance of playing in Sunday's opener at Buffalo.

The hard-running Nance sprained an ankle in Monday's exhibition loss to Philadelphia. He led the AFL in rushing in 1966 with a record 1,458 yards and again last season with 1,216. In San Francisco, veteran John Brodie was handed the 49ers' quarterbacking job by Coach Dick Nolan, beating off another challenge from George Mira.

Dodgers Edge Philadelphia, 10-9

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
The Los Angeles Dodgers, whose banjo-hitting style of attack often causes their pitching staff to sing the blues, suddenly blasted out a baseball version of the Anvil Chorus that all but tumbled the walls of Connie Mack Stadium.

Banjo hitter is a term that refers to a singles hitter, but the Dodgers were anything but that at Philadelphia Tuesday night.

They pounded out three homers and five doubles to produce eight runs in the final two innings for a 10-9 victory over the Phillies.

Of the Dodgers' other four hits, three were singles and one was Ken Boyer's two-run homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the National League, first-place St. Louis topped Cincinnati 5-3 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh edged Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat Atlanta 4-3 and then lost to the Braves 7-6 in 12 innings and the Chicago Cubs trounced San Francisco 8-3.

Willie Crawford led off the eighth inning by slamming a Dick Hall pitch off the right field light standard for a homer. Then with one out, Bill Sudakis homered over the right field wall and Boyer hit his second homer, off the upper left field stands.

Jim Lefebvre struck out, but pinch hitter Len Gabrielson walked and Gary Wagner reeled Hall. Tom Haller greeted Wagner with a double, and Ron Fairly slammed a pinch double that scored Gabrielson and Hall and tied the score 7-7.

Philadelphia took an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the eighth when Gary Sutherland walked with the bases loaded, but the Dodgers came right back with some more cannonloading in the ninth.

Crawford greeted John Booser with a double and scored on Davis' double. After Sudakis struck out and Boyer popped up, Lefebvre walked and Gabrielson doubled home Davis and Lefebvre.

Don Lock homered for the Phillies in the last of the ninth.

St. Louis sent Cincinnati to its sixth straight loss when Curt Flood singled home one run and Roger Maris' sacrifice fly drove in another in the 11th inning. Johnny Bench's two-out, two-run homer in the Cincinnati night sent the game into extra innings.

Pittsburgh beat Houston when Willie Stargell's 22nd homer snapped a 2-2 tie with two out in the sixth. Houston had tied the game in the previous inning on John Bateman's run-scoring double and Jose Herrera's RBI single.

The Mets won the opener of their doubleheader by scoring a pair of runs on two fielder's choice plays in the seventh inning. New York got its first two runs on J. C. Martin's homer in the second.

In the nightcap, Art Shamsky's eighth-inning homer tied the score at 4-4, but Atlanta gained the victory when Tommie Aaron singled home two runs and Marty Martinez singled in another in the 12th.

New York came back with two in its half of the inning before Cecil Upshaw got the final out.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 17th victory against 12 losses for the Cubs as Randy Hundley drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Ernie Banks hit his 27th homer. Willie McCovey belted his 32nd homer, with a man on, and Bobby Bonds slammed a solo shot for San Francisco.

St. Louis Manages To Top Reds, 5-3, in 11 Innings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pitcher Dan McGinn made his major league debut Tuesday night with the Cincinnati Reds as a pinch runner—and stayed on to take the 5-3 loss dealt by the St. Louis Cardinals.

The dismayed McGinn, whose purchase from Asheville of the Southern Association was announced only hours before the game, experienced what the fantasy-minded might describe as a Cinderella story gone awry.

But the Cardinals, who are realistic, moved close enough to the National League pennant to begin counting games.

Now 14 games ahead of second-place San Francisco, the magic number for the Cards is 10. Any combination of 10 St. Louis victories and/or San Francisco defeats will clinch the title.

The Reds, still holding down third spot, dropped 16 games behind St. Louis, as they lost their sixth straight game.

With two out in the bottom of the ninth and the score 3-1, Johnny Bench rapped out a two-run homer to pull the Reds even and send the game into extra innings.

The third Cincinnati relief pitcher held St. Louis in the 10th and with one runner on in the Reds' part of the inning McGinn was tabbed to run for Don Pavletich, on with a single. The Reds went down without a run.

Then McGinn went to the mound for Cincinnati, walked two batters in a row, then departed. The inning ended with the two runners scoring.

The 24-year-old McGinn, touted for his control, had a 5 - 3 record and a 2.38 earned run average at Asheville.

Ray Washburn went 8 2-3 innings for St. Louis before he was lifted for the first of three relievers. Joe Hoerner picked up the victory, his seventh.

Curt Flood's run - scoring single and a sacrifice fly by Roger Maris in the 11th provided the victory.

Stokes Wanted Bay as Veep

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes said Tuesday he was consulted on the choice of the Democratic party's vice presidential nominee and suggested either Sen. Birch E. Bay of Indiana or San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

A delegate to the Chicago convention, Stokes seconded the nomination of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

He said members of Humphrey's staff consulted him on the vice presidential nomination and he spent some time at the convention discussing big city problems with the vice president.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie as Humphrey's running mate could strengthen the ticket in ethnic areas, Stokes added.

Grid Forecasters Give Oilers, Oakland AFL Division Titles

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — As the New York Jets trudged out of the locker room at their training camp recently, a fan studied them for a moment, then said, "They look like the Green Bay Packers."

Unfortunately for the Jets, they don't look like the Packers on the field.

In fact, they might not even look like the Houston Oilers.

That's why the Oilers should repeat as Eastern Division champions and go into the American Football League title game against the Oakland Raiders.

That would be a repeat of last year's title contest, and in this opinion, the outcome will be repeated, too—the Raiders winning and going into the Super Bowl for another crack at the National League.

Here's how the standings could look at the end of the season:

East	West
1. Houston	1. Oakland
2. New York	2. Kansas City
3. Buffalo	3. San Diego
4. Miami	4. Denver
5. Boston	5. Cincinnati

Because they have Joe Namath, the Jets for the past couple of years have been considered a likely candidate for the title game. But after good starts each time, the Jets have failed to make it.

This year again they have to be given a good chance to win in the East, but from this view they'll miss again after a brutal struggle. Actually, it's not too far fetched to foresee the Eastern crown being decided in a playoff game.

The Oilers had two things going for them last year—a tremendously stingy defense and a pair of rugged runners, Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell.

If they can get a better than mediocre passing game to join the combination, they should get by New York.

The Jets, on the other hand, could surprise if halfback Emerson Boozer returns to his pre-injury 1967 form. He's still recuperating from knee surgery, though, and it'll take some time for him to join Namath and form a more potent offense.

None of the other teams in the division appears strong enough to challenge the Oilers and Jets, for a while, Buffalo looked as if it might bounce back toward the top, but then injuries set in, including a damaging one to quarterback Jack Kemp, who is out for the season with torn knee ligaments.

Miami is progressing rapidly but still not far enough along, and Boston has too many problems, including one at quarterback where Mike Taliaferro is trying to make the Patriots' offense go.

Despite a couple of Achilles tendon injuries that most likely will keep defensive tackle Tom Keating and linebacker Bill Laskey out for the season, the Raiders appear to have too much to be unseated.

They'll miss Keating and Laskey, but they still have a rugged bunch of defenders led by mid-cornerback Kent McCloughan.

Kansas City could surprise and challenge Oakland, but its reshuffled defense still must prove itself. The Chiefs' biggest chance is for complacency to hit the Raiders.

The same goes for San Diego although the Chargers' defense keeps them a little behind the Chiefs.

The fight for fourth place could be an interesting one because the Denver Broncos are hurting without quarterback Steve Tenis for at least the first four games, while the expansion Cincinnati Bengals have displayed an unexpectedly tough defense.

The Broncos, however, should barely stay ahead of Cincinnati, which has not shown any kind of scoring punch.

Pro Gridders Are Given Pink Slips

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Youth must be served, and none know it better than the batch of pro football veterans who got their walking papers Tuesday.

Among the jobless were Buffalo fullback Wray Carlton, the American Football League club's all-time rushing leader, and Bob Scarpitto of Denver, the AFL's leading punter the past two seasons.

Others who got the pink slip included Washington defensive back Jimmy Burson, a six-year veteran of the National League for whom the Redskins traded during the off-season; offensive guard Bookie Bolin of the New York Giants, another six-year man who played on two Eastern Conference championship teams, and Baltimore defensive back Jimmy Welch, who had survived eight campaigns.

A couple of big-name youngsters also got the ax. Washington asked waivers on fullback Ray McDonald, the team's No. 1 draft choice a year ago. And Boston gave up on quarterback Don Trull, a three-year veteran acquired from Houston in an effort to shore up the Patriots' offense.

That handed the signal-calling job to Mike Taliaferro, obtained from the New York Jets several weeks ago for Babe Parilli, and rookie Tom Sherman, a free agent from Penn State.

McDonald, a 245-pound bruiser from Idaho, was philosophical about his release, although he averaged 4.3 yards in 52 carries last season despite missing six games because of injuries.

"I hope no other NFL team puts in a claim for me," he said. "I want to make the Redskins' squad. I know I can play football, but I need more experience."

If no one claims him, McDonald will play with the Virginia Sailors of the Atlantic Coast League.

Carlton and Scarpitto also said they will try to hook on with other clubs. Carlton, 31, joined Buffalo when the AFL was born in 1960 and gained 33,368 yards over the years.

Scarpitto, who also has played split end on occasion, set an AFL record of 45.8 yards per punt in 1966 and averaged 44.9 last year, including a 73-yarder, longest in AFL history.

With the AFL getting under way this weekend, Boston learned that fullback Jim Nance has only a 50-50 chance of playing in Sunday's opener at Buffalo.

The hard-running Nance sprained an ankle in Monday's exhibition loss to Philadelphia. He led the AFL in rushing in 1966 with a record 1,458 yards and again last season with 1,216.

In San Francisco, veteran John Brodie was handed the 49ers' quarterbacking job by Coach Dick Nolan, beating off another challenge from George Mira.

Dodgers Edge Philadelphia, 10-9

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
The Los Angeles Dodgers, whose banjo-hitting style of attack often causes their pitching staff to sing the blues, suddenly blasted out a baseball version of the Anvil Chorus that all but tumbled the walls of Connie Mack Stadium.

Banjo hitter is a term that refers to a singles hitter, but the Dodgers were anything but that at Philadelphia Tuesday night.

They pounded out three homers and five doubles to produce eight runs in the final two innings for a 10-9 victory over the Phillies.

Of the Dodgers' other four hits, three were singles and one was Ken Boyer's two-run homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the National League, first-place St. Louis topped Cincinnati 5-3 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh edged Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat Atlanta 4-3 and then lost to the Braves 7-6 in 12 innings and the Chicago Cubs trounced San Francisco 8-3.

Willie Crawford led off the eighth inning by slamming a Dick Hall pitch off the right field light standard for a homer. Then with one out, Bill Sudakis homered over the right field wall and Boyer hit his second homer, off the upper left field stands.

Jim Lefebvre struck out, but pinch hitter Len Gabrielson walked and Gary Wagner relieved Hall. Tom Haller greeted Wagner with a double, and Ron Fairly slammed a pinch double that scored Gabrielson and Hall and tied the score 7-7.

Philadelphia took an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the eighth when Gary Sutherland walked with the bases loaded, but the Dodgers came right back with some more cannonloading in the ninth.

Crawford greeted John Booser with a double and scored on Davis' double. After Sudakis struck out and Boyer popped up, Lefebvre walked and Gabrielson doubled home Davis and Lefebvre.

Don Lock homered for the Phillies in the last of the ninth. St. Louis sent Cincinnati to its sixth straight loss when Curt Flood singled home one run and Roger Maris' sacrifice fly drove in another in the 11th inning.

Johnny Bench's two-out, two-run homer in the Cincinnati night sent the game into extra innings.

Pittsburgh beat Houston when Willie Stargel's 22nd homer snapped a 2-2 tie with two out in the sixth. Houston had tied the game in the previous inning on John Bateman's run-scoring double and Jose Herrera's RBI single.

The Mets won the opener of their doubleheader by scoring a pair of runs on two fielder's choice plays in the seventh inning. New York got its first two runs on J. C. Martin's homer in the second.

In the nightcap, Art Shamsky's eighth-inning homer tied the score at 4-4, but Atlanta gained the victory when Tommie Aaron singled home two runs and Marty Martinez singled in another in the 12th.

New York came back with two in its half of the inning before Cecil Upshaw got the final out.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 17th victory against 12 losses for the Cubs as Randy Hundley drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Ernie Banks hit his 27th homer. Willie McCovey belted his 32nd homer, with a man on, and Bobby Bonds slammed a solo shot for San Francisco.

In the nightcap, Art Shamsky's eighth-inning homer tied the score at 4-4, but Atlanta gained the victory when Tommie Aaron singled home two runs and Marty Martinez singled in another in the 12th.

New York came back with two in its half of the inning before Cecil Upshaw got the final out.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 17th victory against 12 losses for the Cubs as Randy Hundley drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Ernie Banks hit his 27th homer. Willie McCovey belted his 32nd homer, with a man on, and Bobby Bonds slammed a solo shot for San Francisco.

Philadelphia took an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the eighth when Gary Sutherland walked with the bases loaded, but the Dodgers came right back with some more cannonloading in the ninth.

Crawford greeted John Booser with a double and scored on Davis' double. After Sudakis struck out and Boyer popped up, Lefebvre walked and Gabrielson doubled home Davis and Lefebvre.

Don Lock homered for the Phillies in the last of the ninth. St. Louis sent Cincinnati to its sixth straight loss when Curt Flood singled home one run and Roger Maris' sacrifice fly drove in another in the 11th inning.

Johnny Bench's two-out, two-run homer in the Cincinnati night sent the game into extra innings.

Pittsburgh beat Houston when Willie Stargel's 22nd homer snapped a 2-2 tie with two out in the sixth. Houston had tied the game in the previous inning on John Bateman's run-scoring double and Jose Herrera's RBI single.

The Mets won the opener of their doubleheader by scoring a pair of runs on two fielder's choice plays in the seventh inning. New York got its first two runs on J. C. Martin's homer in the second.

1. Card of Thanks

I wish to thank everyone who was so kind to me during my recent stay in Berger Hospital. The cards and flowers and the visits I received from friends helped a great deal.
I am also indebted to all of the staff in the hospital for the fine care I received and for their thoughtfulness.
Neil Morris

2. Special Notice

I will not be responsible for any debts other than my own as of this date, September 4, 1968.

1. Card of Thanks

I wish to thank everyone who was so kind to me during my recent stay in Berger Hospital. The cards and flowers and the visits I received from friends helped a great deal.
I am also indebted to all of the staff in the hospital for the fine
care I received and for their thoughtfulness.
Neil Morris

2. Special Notice

I will not be responsible for any debts other than my own as of this date, September 4, 1968.

NO. 22832
LEGAL NOTICE BY PUBLICATION
Joseph Costlow, whose address is unknown, an heir of Estle Costlow, deceased, will take notice that Viola Hoffer, Executrix of the estate of Estle Costlow, deceased, on the 16th day of August, 1968, filed her petition in the Probate Court within and for the county of Pickaway and State of Ohio, alleging that the personal estate of said decedent is not sufficient to pay his debts and the charges and expenses of his estate; that he died seized in fee simple of the following described real estate, situated in said county, to-wit:

Being a part of Survey No. 2448 in Virginia Military Lands and bounded and described as follows: Being at a point in the center line of State Route No. 316 N. 63 degrees 10' W. 1173.06 feet from the intersection of Route No. 16, thence S. 79 degrees 37' W. 290.47 feet; thence N. 10 degrees 23' W. 275.1 feet; thence S. 83 degrees 37' E. 71.7 feet; thence N. 10 degrees 18' E. 42.3 feet; thence S. 80 degrees 18' E. 202.21 feet; S. 10 degrees 23' E. 299.95 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1.07 acres of land, more or less, and being in Scioto Township. Being the same premises conveyed to Estle Costlow by Alva Welsh by Warranty Deed dated October 18, 1948 and recorded in Volume 138, page 246 of the Deed Records of Pickaway County, Ohio.

The prayer of said petition is for the sale of said premises for the payment of debts and charges aforesaid.
The person above mentioned will further take notice that he has been made party defendant to said petition and that he is required to answer the same on or before the 28th day of September, 1968.

National Air Races Success At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 1968 Cleveland National Air Races were a financial success, and the event will be held again in 1969.

That was the word Monday at the windup of the three-day races at Burke Lakefront Airport, with an estimated total attendance of 65,000, including 30,000 on the final day.

Bill Falck of Warwick, N. Y., won the formula I event for homemade racers, setting a course record of 215.25 miles per hour.

Judy Wagner of Miralest, Calif., won the women's stockplane event in 189.27 m.p.h., and Dallas Christian of Citrus Heights, Calif., captured the sport biplane event with a speed of 155.55 m.p.h.

Bengals Cut 8 Players

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals' roster was trimmed to 44 players Monday, but Coach Paul Brown said he hoped some of those released might be picked up eventually for the taxi squad.

"We hope we'll be able to keep some of these people," he said. "But we don't want to tip our hand and say who they are."

His hopes are dependent on whether the other American Football League teams will pass up the cuts.

Placed on waivers were guard Frank Roy, end Bob Longo, defense back John Guillery, and Ed McCall, tackle Bobby Kelly, and rookies Bill Peterson of San Jose State, fullback Ted Washington from San Diego State, and linebacker John Nelidert from Louisville.

Scattered Incidents Mar Viet Lull

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shelled another major South Vietnamese city today, and the U.S. Command reported three American helicopters and a fighter-bomber shot down in the South. But a general lull in sustained fighting continued into a fifth day.

Two of the aircraft, a $2 million Air Force F4 Phantom and an Army helicopter, were downed three miles from the Cambodian border Tuesday, but all six crewmen were rescued. The Phantom was supporting allied infantrymen northwest of Tay Ninh, and the helicopter was shot down as it tried to rescue the Phantom's two crewmen. Two other helicopters completed the rescue.

Ground fire brought down another chopper in the central highlands, near An Khe. One crewman was injured and the helicopter was destroyed.

Nixon Starts Campaign; Sees Unpredictable Nov.5

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon fires the opening gun today in his campaign for the presidency and he says he is starting on an "upbeat note."

He added, however, that the outcome of the election can not be predicted now because issues, not the candidates, are predominant in the minds of the voters.

"When people are more concerned about issues than men," Nixon said Tuesday night in an unscheduled news conference, "they make up their minds by what the candidates say about the issues. This is the year when people are wrought up. This is the year when people are unpredictable."

The first campaign swing takes Nixon to Chicago, San Francisco, San Jose, Calif., Houston, Oklahoma City and Pittsburgh. He pointed out that the itinerary covers all four sections of the nation.

"We start definitely on an upbeat note," he said, "not because of what happened at the Democratic convention but at ours. We won the nomination without splitting the party."

He said Chicago was selected as the kickoff point for his campaign weeks before the Democratic convention, during which violent disorders erupted.

Nixon indicated that he might issue a statement on the rioting and the charges that the Chicago police "overreacted" against demonstrators. "I am studying it now," he said.

His Chicago schedule called for a motorcade through the Loop and then at 9 p.m. CDT a question-and-answer session, on live television with a panel and an audience. "If I don't make the statement, we may deal with it during the telecast," he said.

Speaking generally about the outlook for the campaign, Nixon said there are more undecided voters today than there were in 1960 when he lost a hairline race to John F. Kennedy.

"The issues are more volatile today," Nixon said. "In 1960, there was no war in Vietnam. Disorders in the cities were not a great issue. There was no inflation."

Because of the issues confronting the voters today, he continued, "We can change a lot of people's minds."

Asked about the effect of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's candidacy, Nixon said he does not believe "people are going to waste their votes on a third party candidate." As his campaign and that of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey develop, he said, the support for Wallace will diminish. "I could be wrong," Nixon added.

He described Illinois, California, Texas and Pennsylvania as "up for grabs" in this election.

In the final weeks of the campaign, he said he plans to concentrate on what he called "the big seven"—New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Texas. They have a total of 210 electoral college votes.

With respect to the Southern states, Nixon said he will campaign in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida. "But in naming those states," he continued, "I am not excluding others."

He indicated that he may make fewer formal speeches in this campaign than in his previous races. Instead, he said, there may be more of the televised question-and-answer sessions such as he scheduled in Chicago tonight.

57 Traffic Cases Heard In Muncy Court

Labor Day motorists caused a day of labor for county law enforcers and Circleville Municipal Court workers as a total of 57 cases were called and completed Tuesday.

David Owens, 18, Route 2, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving with fictitious registration.

Carol A. Craig, 28, of 575 Plaza Drive, was fined $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60 mile zone. However, Judge Sterling Lamb suspended the fine.

Jim D. Barton, 31, Ashville, forfeited a $59 bond on a charge of littering the highway.

Steve Stover, 25, Route 2, Ashville, forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60 mile zone.

Dennis Elmo Call, 20, of 554 E. Main St., forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of squealing his tires.

Robert A. Johnson, 31, Route 2, Amanda, forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of speeding 47 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone.

Clarence Peters, 39, Route 1, Stoutsville, forfeited $19 for speeding 45 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone.

Lloyd D. Dille, 43, Route 1, Laurelville, was speeding 46 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone and forfeited a $24 bond.

Fred Liff, 28, Route 1, Laurelville, forfeited a $19 bond on a charge of speeding 45 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone.

A total of 48 out-of-county motorists forfeited bonds and fines amounting to $1,178.

Saxbe Backs Tax Incentives

CLEVELAND (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said Tuesday he would support tax incentives to industries which locate in ghetto areas.

The Republican senatorial candidate said the industries should be permitted to write off their plant investment over a five-year period.

Speaking at the opening of the Cuyahoga County Republican headquarters, Saxbe said: "Our poor citizens want and deserve a chance to earn their own way. We must find jobs for them and we must prepare the hard-core unemployed to fill those jobs."

He suggested the creation of an information pool on training facilities and the allocation of federal funds to local public unemployment agencies on a per trainee basis.

Holiday Toll Reaches 688

CHICAGO (AP) — A record 688 persons were killed in traffic accidents across the nation during the three-day Labor Day weekend.

The toll exceeded the previous Labor Day record of 636 set in 1966. It compared with 518 traffic deaths during a recent non-holiday weekend of the same length surveyed for comparison purposes by The Associated Press.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 575 to 675 persons might die during the holiday period, which ran from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

Guess To Quit As House Clerk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Carl Guess, clerk of the Ohio House of Representatives for most of the last 22 years, has announced he will retire at the end of the year.

The Carroll County native has been confined to a wheel chair recently by a hip ailment.

Guess pitched with the Cleveland Indians briefly in the early 1920 before his baseball career was ended by a sore arm. He then went into politics, first as a Carroll County commissioner and later as a state representative.

He resigned his House seat in 1946 to become clerk. His only periods out of the office were the 1949-50 session and 1959-60 session, when Democrats controlled the House.

Columbus Youth Fined for Soliciting
A Columbus youth selling encyclopedias door-to-door in Circleville was called into Municipal Court Tuesday to answer a charge of soliciting without a license.

David Knott, 18, forfeited a bond of $24 when he failed to appear.

Teacher Strike Averted in Toledo
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A teachers strike was averted here Tuesday when the board of education agreed to an across-the-board salary increase.

The new agreement calls for increasing starting salaries from $5,900 to $7,000, with other teachers and professional personnel receiving proportionate wage hikes.

The salary increases are contingent, however, upon voter approval of a school levy at an election to be held this fall.

Hot Lunches Still Scheduled For Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus school system's free hot lunch program for needy inner-city children will be conducted this year, as planned, Supt. Harold Eibling announced Tuesday.

Earlier Tuesday it was reported that the program was being postponed indefinitely because Franklin County Welfare Department did not have the funds to provide its $40,000 contribution to keep the program alive through December.

But Eibling said the difference would be paid out of Aid to Dependent Children funds. And County Commissioner Glenn L. Myers, who said the board was not aware of the welfare department's predicament, promised that the county would come up with its share of the money.

Ocean covered a vast part of southern Maryland in the mid-Miocene, 15 to 18 million years ago, the National Geographic Society reports.

Scattered Incidents Mar Viet Lull

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shelled another major South Vietnamese city today, and the U.S. Command reported three American helicopters and a fighter-bomber shot down in the South. But a general lull in sustained fighting continued into a fifth day.

Two of the aircraft, a $2 million Air Force F4 Phantom and an Army helicopter, were downed three miles from the Cambodian border Tuesday, but all six crewmen were rescued. The Phantom was supporting allied infantrymen northwest of Tay Ninh, and the helicopter was shot down as it tried to rescue the Phantom's two crewmen. Two other helicopters completed the rescue.

Ground fire brought down another chopper in the central highlands, near An Khe. One crewman was injured and the helicopter was destroyed.

Nixon Starts Campaign; Sees Unpredictable Nov.5

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon fires the opening gun today in his campaign for the presidency and he says he is starting on an "upbeat note."

He added, however, that the outcome of the election can not be predicted now because issues, not the candidates, are predominant in the minds of the voters.

"When people are more concerned about issues than men," Nixon said Tuesday night in an unscheduled news conference, "they make up their minds by what the candidates say about the issues. This is the year when people are wrought up. This is the year when people are unpredictable."

The first campaign swing takes Nixon to Chicago, San Francisco, San Jose, Calif., Houston, Oklahoma City and Pittsburgh. He pointed out that the itinerary covers all four sections of the nation.

"We start definitely on an upbeat note," he said, "not because of what happened at the Democratic convention but at ours. We won the nomination without splitting the party."

He said Chicago was selected as the kickoff point for his campaign weeks before the Democratic convention, during which violent disorders erupted.

Nixon indicated that he might issue a statement on the rioting and the charges that the Chicago police "overreacted" against demonstrators. "I am studying it now," he said.

57 Traffic Cases Heard In Muny Court

His Chicago schedule called for a motorcade through the Loop and then at 9 p.m. CDT a question-and-answer session, on live television with a panel and an audience. "If I don't make the statement, we may deal with it during the telecast," he said.

Speaking generally about the outlook for the campaign, Nixon said there are more undecided voters today than there were in 1960 when he lost a hairline race to John F. Kennedy.

"The issues are more volatile today," Nixon said. "In 1960, there was no war in Vietnam. Disorders in the cities were not a great issue. There was no inflation."

Because of the issues confronting the voters today, he continued, "We can change a lot of people's minds."

Asked about the effect of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's candidacy, Nixon said he does not believe "people are going to waste their votes on a third party candidate." As his campaign and that of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey develops, he said, the support for Wallace will diminish. "I could be wrong," Nixon added.

He described Illinois, California, Texas and Pennsylvania as "up for grabs" in this election.

In the final weeks of the campaign, he said he plans to concentrate on what he called "the big seven"—New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Texas. They have a total of 210 electoral college votes.

With respect to the Southern states, Nixon said he will campaign in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida. "But in naming those states," he continued, "I am not excluding others."
